QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I felt very much humiliated this morning, as a member of this body, to see in the newspapers, the statement issued yesterday by the chairman of the Ways and Means Committee of this House. Now, I want to say that some of the newspapers have interpreted this action as though two guardians were to be appointed for the Pinchot administration. Now if the Governor and his administration feel that they need any guardians, so far as I am concerned, they are welcome to them; but so far as this House is concerned, of which I happen to be a member, I strenuously object to any such methods of procedure. The statement of the chairman of the Ways and Means Committee says that these guardians have been called in from Washington because they are men of broad vision. Now, I would like to know whether that is to be interrogated as saying that we, 207 or 208 members of this House, are men of small vision and that we are incompetent, that we have been elected by the people to come here and perform the functions which belongs to this House as a member of this body, and that we are here now, to confess publicly in the newspapers and before the people of Pennsylvania and before the people of the world that we are a bunch of incompentents, that we are not able to do the work for which we are sent here by the people of Pennsylvania. If the orders are to come to this House, if we are to have guardians who are to come here from the City of Washington or who are to go to Atlantic City and hold conferences and decide what shall be done in this House or in this Legislature, then I feel that, at least in justice to ourselves and in justice to this House, we should know what is going on in those conferences and we are entitled to know what their orders are. If we are simply sitting here as a body of men, as a body of rubber stamps, to carry out what a few men have decided on, I feel that at least even as rubber stamps, we would be entitled to know what the orders are and what we are supposed to do. Another statement that was contained in the newspapers says that the welfare of the Republican Party damands that we call in a couple of guardians to take charge of this House. Are we in the class of the feeble-minded? Why, only the feeble-minded appeal to the courts and ask for guardians and say that they are not able to take care of their property and that they are not able to take care of their business or their work. I ask you seriously, are we to be put down, in the present Pennsylvania Assembly as belonging to the same class as the feeble-minded? Insofar as the welfare of the Republican Party is concerned, I have nothing to say. I am not interested in one faction or the other, and I believe that every man and every woman in this House will bear me out in the fact that I have persistently and consistently, during my four terms as a member of this House, stood for legislation which I beleive to be right and fair, and many a time, on the same day, have I been aligned with the Administration and then an hour later aligned with the opponents of the Administration. I have done that during this session on a number of occasions. I have been lined up with the forces of the Administration, and whenever there is a bill under consideration on my desk which I feel is right and just and which is for the benefit of my constituents and for the benefit of the people of Pennsylvania, I have invariably voted "aye" on that measure, regardless as to whether the man across the hall wanted it or whether he didn't want it; and when I felt that there was no merit in the bill and when I felt that the bill should not have been passed, I have almost invariably voted "no". And, as I have said frequently, on the same day, I have been aligned three, four times with one side and three, four times with the other, and so far as the welfare of the Republican Party is concerned, I have no interest in that, but I do have an interest, as a member of this House, in insisting that we, as members of this honorable body, shall not be insulted and humiliated by the statements that we must call on men of broad visions to come here and tell us what to do and how to do our work. I have full faith and confidence in the men and women occupying the seats of this House today. I have never reproached, in my four years' experience here, I have never reproched one single member for voting against any bill or any measure that I have had in here, and I shall not do so. I always have had confidence in the membership of this House that they were able to stand up and to act, and I have that confidence now and I believe that what has happened in the last forty-eight hours stands as a slap in the face to this House and as an insult to the members of this House. Insofar as it effects the governor or the men across the hall, I am not interested in that. If Governor Pinchot feels that he needs a couple of guardians to take care of him and to advise him, that is up to him. He may answer that for himself, but so far as the members are concerned, I want to voice my emphatic protest that this House is able to take care of its own work and that we have been sent here by the people of Pennsylvania, and the men who are supposed to be our guardians have been elected by those people for a different work. They have been elected to look after the affairs of Pennsylvania down yonder in Washington and not here on Capital Hill at Harrisburg.

328.7481
P381
1923

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. SCHLEITER. Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, I am afraid my colleague is taking this matter rather seriously. The House was in a condition in which the S O S call was absolutely imperative. The House has been without leadership. As the members of the House, with a goodly exception, have been accustomed to leadership the leadership was not always in the House or by members of the House, but it was directed from Philadelphia or Washington or Atlantic City or Florida. Wherever it happened that the oracle was at that time, so, I am not surprised that these newly-made senators have come to the rescue or have offered their assistance to get the old ship of state back into calm waters, in order to have the affairs of the State go on in a good old way. Why my friends, it is evident, self-evident, that a strong arm is necessary here, because of the fact that bills are being passed here, not on their merits, but by and for the reason that certain members are sponsoring those bills, and it makes absolutely little difference how meritorious a bill might be, how just it might be, if that offer has in some way offended, if, perchance, he has voted "dry", that bill is marked. I have remarked to numbers of members that have come among my neighbors here and have said, "Now, boys, we will vote so and so on that bill," and I have heard them say, time and again, "We will hit that fellow;" and they didn't know a thing about that fellow's bill. So it seems to me, Mr. Speaker, that Mr. Pepper, whose first official act, when appointed by Governor Sprowl on Thursday, was on Friday to vote to seat a man who practically purchased, and was convicted in the courts of the State of Michigan,and who practically purchased his election, voted to seat him in his place, from which he had to resign, To call him into consultation is eminently right, insofar as that kind of leadership is demanded, in order that order may be brought out of chaos. I think it is high time, and agree with my friend, Mr. Sarig, to this extent, that I think it is high time that the members of the Legislature, who were sent here by their constituency, to assert themselves be taken and that no orders be taken from United States senators and even from governors.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, if it is the desire of a member of this body to come to some definite understanding and to arrive at some conclusion which it beneficial to the whole people, then I think the remarks of the gentleman from Berks this morning will do much toward defeating this end. If it is however for the purpose of muddying the waters and keeping the different factions and different interests in play, the gentleman from Berks was a success. I might say that the new United States senators did not come to Harrisburg for the purpose of giving any orders whatever, but those of us who have endeavored during this whole session to do something that was beneficial to the whole people and arrive at a conclusion in the way of taxes, have always been told that the educational program must have some sixteen or eighteen millions of dollars. In order that those taxes may be laid upon the shoulders of those who can best bear it, we have been carrying on an investigation toward that end. When a tax bill is offered, we have this industry objecting and another industry objecting. When another tax bill is offered, we have the objection from this corner and from the other corner. And without any reflection on the members of this House, each of these industries and each of these different people who are interested and who will bear these taxes have their friends in this House, and they listen to what those friends say to them. For instance, we have the manufacturers' side of it, we will take that because that has been spoken of, when we speak about a manufacturing tax friends of the manufacturers are up in arms; when we talk about a surtax on corporations, the friends of the corporations are up in arms, and with that situation in this House, with those men lobbying in this House, interested in each one of these things, we saw it was absolutely impossible to force upon anybody this taxation. Therefore, the two gentlemen who are in close touch with the manufacturers, in close touch with the business, with all the business of this State, were asked to come here, not that they should show us the way, not that they should dictate to us what we should do, but to call to their assistance those people who are going to pay the tax, the corporations, of you please, the manufacturers, if you please, and all other people and they are going to and see if they are going to and see if they can't agree among themselves. For instance, the manufacturers may say, "I will take a certain proportion of this burden;" the corporations will say, "I will take a certain proportion of this burden;" and some other industries will say, "I will take a certain proportion of this burden." and then, when it comes back to us in that condition, rather than us forcing a tax on somebody, we are getting the people who are going to pay the tax in a receptive mood and saying, "We will take this burden;" you fix the taxes accordingly, and then you and I will have a smaller part to do. Therefore, when we talk about the guardians, we are only asking them to help us in this great task, because you and I, of all things, don't want to force anybody, be they manufacturers, corporations, or individuals, to pay a tax which may be burdensome to them. They know better than anybody else which taxation will be less burdensome, these men are in close touch at all times, I say these Senators are in close touch with the business of the State and with those people that are going to bear those taxes, and they know better than we, being a big body as we are, how to get into close touch with them and come back to us, perhaps, with some plan which has been agreed upon by the people who are going to pay the tax. They are not here, as I said, as guardians or as bosses or as dictators or anything else. They are here simply as anybody else in the Commonwealth that is interested in the benefit and in the industries and in the different institutions, the educational program of this State, and to see that this grand old State of Pennsylvania does not stand back when her duty calls her to certain things, but they are here to assist us in order to avoid confusion, and our duty will not be so hard as it might be otherwise.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER.

The SPEAKER. The Chair reminds the House that a session will be held on Thursday of this week as usual and that bills on Third Reading and Final Passage will be considered. Last Thursday the attendance was so light that a few votes would defeat any bill. Little is to be gained by transferring bills from Third Reading to postponed calendars which have already reached unweildly proportions, yet it would be unfortunate should the House decline to allow further transfers of this kind. For these reasons the Chair trusts that we may have a full attendance tomorrow, and to this end we have made special arrangements to have the calendar delivered in time so that the Session tomorrow may begin at ten o'clock.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. STOFFLET. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. STOFFLET. Mr. Speaker, I am considerably agitated as I arise to speak on this particular subject. I have no intimation of muddy water, but I do believe that this old ship of state has been sailed out to where the waves are pretty high and it requires some good captain to bring it safely back into the harbor again. One never knows what a burst of eloquence, or an avalanche of syntax may do to one. I have built a few bonfires in my time, but they never amounted to a great deal. The situation before this House to day is so unique, coupled with the visit of Senators Reed and Pepper, that I think honestly it might properly be made the subject for letters patent. Perhaps they did not come here so much to tell us just what to do, because we all admit the administration has told us that we need more money, and we know the tax was inevitable. The thing that staggers me and a great many of the other members is what there is left to tax, and this has come to me in a little poem this morning. So far as I am concerned they have taxed me to the limit.

Our taxes are too small,
And he would slap on more of them
And end our troubles all.

They've taxed my meagre income and
They've taxed my house and lot;
They've taxed my small investments—
Most everything I've got.

And now they'll tax my fiddle,
My goldfish and my cat,
My soap and gum and matches,
My fuzzy winter hat.

They'll tax my fireless cooker,
My nail-file and my clocks,
My tooth brush and my jack-knife,
My shirts and ties and socks.

My Ingersoll, my razor,
My typewriter and my breath,
And they'll keep right on taxing
Till they tax this bird to death.

And, when I lie, all dignified,
With lily placed so neat,
I hope they'll tax my harp and crown,
And make the job complete.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. JOHN G. MARSHALL. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. MARSHALL. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I wish to call the attention of the House to the postponed calendar, and especially to the size of it. The reasons for this, I think, are obvious to all of us, and I wish to speak of it for the reason that it has reached proportions at the present time where it is not only burdensome, but it is an imposition on the members of the House, to have to keep informed on each bill on this postponed calendar any one of which is liable to be called up at any minute. I think there are a great many bills, in fact I know there are several on this postponed calendar at this time, which will not be called up. It is not the intention of the sponsors of those bills to call them up, but the members do not know that fact and in order to be prepared to answer any questions on bills that may be called up, and are not what we think they should be, we must keep informed on about forty bills.

The practice has been during the past few weeks to pass a motion to continue all postponed bills for five days. I think this is a bad practice, for as I said before, several members have bills on the postponed list with the intention of letting them die a natural death. Instead of extending the time by a blanket motion I think every member who desires to have the time extended on a postponed bill should do so by a separate motion. I would also suggest that men who have bills on the postponed list endeavor to dispose of them at as early date as possible, and not expect members to go over and over them every time we get a new calendar.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. Edmonds,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 709, entitled:

A Supplement to an act approved the twentieth day of June one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (Pamphlet Laws five hundred twenty-one) entitled "An act providing for the imposition and collection of certain taxes upon the transfer of property passing from a decedent who was a resident of this Commonwealth at the time of his death and of property within this Commonwealth of a decedent who was a non-resident of the Commonwealth at the time of his death and making it unlawful for any corporation of this Commonwealth or national banking association located therein to transfer the stock of such corporation or banking association standing in the name of any such decedent until the tax on the transfer thereof has been paid and providing penalties and citing certain acts for repeal" providing additional taxes upon the transfer of certain kinds and classes of personal property upon which county and city taxes have not been paid as required by law

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL DROPPED FROM CALENDAR

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, may I make a statement with reference to this bill? I am going to move that it be dropped from the calendar. This bill and House Bill No. 145, at the bottom of the page, both of which relate to the personal property tax. The House yesterday passed the major bill on that subject. These bills provide merely an alternative method of making payment by the issuing of adhesive stamps by the Auditor General. It was proposed merely as a convenience for taxables, but I have heard from a great many taxables that they do not like the idea of the convenience. There is a pronounced feeling in this Commonwealth against the stamp method of paying taxes. I, therefore, move that House Bill 709 and the complimentary bill No. 145, be dropped from the calendar.

Mr. FRATT. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

Tht motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. Edwards,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 145, entitled:

L. 507), entitled, "An act to provide revenue for State and county purposes, and, in cities co-extensive with counties, for city and county purposes; imposing taxes upon certain classes of personal property; providing for the assessment and collection of the same; providing for the duties and compensation of prothonotaries and recorders in connection therewith; and modifying existing legislation which provided for raising revenue for State purposes;" authorizing the payment of taxes for county and city purposes on certain investments through the use of adhesive stamps prepared by the Auditor General of the State for the use of the several counties and cities.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL DROPPED FROM CALENDAR

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 145, file folio 2765, be dropped from the calendar.

Mr. FRATT. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL DROPPED FROM CALENDAR

Mr. EDMONDS. May I make a statement in regard to this bill? The legislation contemplated in this bill is fully covered by a bill passed this morning, introduced by Mr. Ludlow, and, therefore, this bill becomes unnecessary.

I move, Mr. Speaker, that it be dropped from the calendar.

Mr. FRATT. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question, recurring.

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk then read the amendments as follows:

Amend section 1, page 5, line 2, by striking out the words "by it assured" and inserting in lieu thereof "assumed"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the time on House Bill No. 531 be extended for a period of 5 days.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 246, as follows:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to section eleven of article eight of the Constitution of Pennsylvania

Section 1 Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section eleven of article eight of the Constitution of Pennsylvania which reads as follows

"Townships and wards of cities or boroughs shall form or be divided into election districts of compact and contiguous territory in such manner as the court of quarter sessions of the city or county in which the same are located may direct but districts in cities of over one hundred thousand inhabitants shall be divided by the courts of quarter sessions having jurisdicton therein whenever at the next preceding election more than two hundred and fifty votes shall have been polled therein and other election districts whenever the court of the proper county shall be of opinion that the convenience of the electors and the public interest will be promoted thereby" is hereby amended to read as follows

Township and wards of cities or boroughs shall form or be divided into election districts of compact and contiguous territory in such manner as the court of quarter sessons of the city or county in which the same are located may direct but the courts of quarter sessions having jurisdiction therein shall have power to divide or change the boundaries of election districts whenever the court of the proper county shall be of the opinion that the convenience of the electors and the public interests will be promoted thereby

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. JOSEPH MARCUS, Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, it is with some pleasure that I take my place on the floor at this time and find that there is one bill amongst all those election bills which have been introduced in this House, which I can support without any stretch of conscience. I have read all of those bills; I have digested them, analyzed them; I have attended all the hearings, I have listened to all the arguments, and as a result I see only this bill, out of the whole mass, which stands out alone and that has any particular merit in it. Therefore, as I say, it is with pleasure that I speak in favor of the passage of this bill, principally because it does not affect the election procedure that we now have in the State of Pennsylvania. As a general proposition, I am rather opposed to changing our fundamental laws for the purpose of aiding any election matter, but in this case I see that there is somewhat of a necessity, for under the present Constitution the Court has the right to direct that divison voting districts may be divided when the voting strength is 250 or over If that is carried out to its logical conclusion it is easy to see what a great number of voting districts we might have on account of the recent addition of the women voters. There is scarcely any division, so far as I know, in our own city of Philadelphia, which might not be divided upon that ratio. Therefore, I feel that there can be no objection to the passage of this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SCHAEFFER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. Lorenzo D. Thomas.

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill Uo. 896, entitled

An Act to ascertain and appoint the fees to be received by the clerk of quarter sessions and oyer and terminer of counties of the third class and fourth class

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

Shall the bill pass finally?

On the question,

Mr. HORNE. Mr. Speaker, I regret that this bill was on the calendar because it pute us back to the fee system in counties where we have a salary basis. For that reason, I must be opposed to this bill.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Cambria is very much mistaken in that statement. The counties of the third and fourth class have salaries, are under salaries at the present time. There is also for the third and fourth class counties a fee system to be charged by the different officers in these counties. This is simply the fee system we have at the present time with some few changes in it. None of these fees go to the office, but all are paid into the county treasurer. It is true, and the only place and the only way that the fee in any way relates to the officer is the fact that the law fixing the salary of the officer does not permit that officer to receive more salary than he takes into his office in fees. That is the only way that this fee affects the officer. There is a fee system at the present time and this is the only change in the figures. I have gone over the present fee system in the third and fourth class counties if this proposition should arise so I could tell you the changes. If you will follow the bill, you will find the charge for the venire for and swearing of grand jury; the next item is the same; the next item, where a bill is returned ignoramus, in the old fee bill, it was $2.30, and in the new, $1.50, so you see there is a reduction there; the next item, calling recognizance and entry of forfeiture, in the old bill, it was 25 cents and that is raised here to 50 cents; the next two items are new items; the next item, for continuance, in the old list, it was 10 cents instead of 25 cents; the next item is a new fee; the next item is the same; the next item, swearing jury witnesses, etc., is a new charge; services in cases of surety of the peace, except subpoenas or attachments, in the old bill it was $2.30, and this makes it 75 cents; the next item is the same; copy of rule or order of court in the old bill was 40 cents and this makes it 60 cents; the next five items are the same; constables bond filing in the old bill was $1.00, and in this, is 60 cents; receiving and entering constable returns, in the old bill, 80 cents, in the new bill, 60 cents; the next two items are the same; the next item is a new item; issuing attachment and entering motion, in the old bill, 50 cents in the new bill, 40 cents; the next item is a new charge; certificate and seal, in the old bill, 40 cents, in this bill, 30 cents; the next item is the same; taxing costs other than the clerk of the session, in the old bill 25 cents, in this bill, 50 cents; retaxing parties, etc., in the old bill, 25 cents, in this bill, 50 cents; the next item is the same; the next item is a new charge; issuing supreme or superior court records, the charge is the same; entering appeals from justices and aldermen is a new charge; certificate of pay of jurors, etc., in the old bill, 75 cents, in this bill, $1.00; the next two items are the same; filing any paper not relating to pending suit, in the old bill, 25 cents, in this bill, $1.00; all proceedings in tavern or eating house licenses, in the old bill, $5.00, in this bill, $1.00; the next two items are the same; recording, tabulating and entering special elections, in the old bill, $2.50, in this bill, $3.00; the next item is the same, and also the next two; the next item is a new charge, while the charge in the next two items is the same; commitment to penitentiary, in the old bill, $1.50, in the ne wbill, $2.00; commitment to reformatory, in the old bill, $1.00, in the new bill, $2.00; all services performed in any one execution where a bill is found, etc., in the old bill, $4.00, in the new bill, $8.00; when bill is returned ignoramus, in the old bill, $3.05, in the new bill, $2.50. So, you see, taking it all along the line, there is a very little difference. To a certain extent, it does change it somewhat, but so far as the fees are concerned, all the fees go into the county treasurer's office, and in a great many times, I might say 75% of the time, they are paid by the defendants in the cases, and therefore it is a gain for the county.

The SPEAKER. The Chair is inclined to think that some confusion may exist with regard to this bill, for the reason that the correct file folio is 4015 instead of the folio printed on the calendar.

Mr. HORNE. Mr. Speaker and Members of the House. It was not my purpose to get this information on this bill. I spoke to the sponsor of the bill, and he assured me I was mistaken, and I think perhaps I was. When I looked over this bill I thought that it referred back entirely to the feee system for the payment of officers. I believe I was mistaken.

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker, as a Representative from a fourth-class county, I wish to say that our people feel that this bill is entirely fair. As you know, the law now fixes a stated salary for officials in counties of the fourth class. Now, the quarter sessions' office is the only office where the fees are insufficient to make up the salary as stipulated by law. Every other office in our court House has fees sufficient to take care of the salary as stipulated by law, and since we have recently repealed the Woner Act and have taken away the income tax of this office, I feel it is fair that the clerk of the quarter sessions should be treated the same as all other office holders in fourth-class counties. Not one penny more than his salary is taken out of the fee, and all excess in fees will be turned back into the county treasury, and the object of this bill is simply to provide sufficient revenue so that the salary of this particular official may be taken care of the same as the salaries in other offices are taken care of. I think the bill is entirely fair and should be passed.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. McVicar, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McVICAR. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ALEXANDER. I desire to ask the gentleman from Allegheny to explain the purpose of this bill.

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, this is a bill which relates wholly to practice in courts. Under the existing law, in order to assign an error in the charge of the Court, so that an appeal may be made to the Supreme or Superior Court, it is necessary that the party wishing to except those portions of the charge, which he deems to be in error must do so specifically before the jury retires, and in its presence and hearing, and it is also necessary that a request be made that the stenographic notes of the charge be reduced to writing and filed of record. Now this bill provides that a party may take an exception to the charge generally, before the jury has rendered a verdict, and if he does so he may afterwards assign as error any part of the charge which he deems to be erroneous, except as to mis-statement of fact, and it also dispenses with the necessity of requesting that the charge be reduced to writing and filed. It is believed that this bill will accomplish the following: First, it will not cause the party taking an exception to be prejudiced before the jury, as is now the case; and in the second place, that it will make the judges more careful in ascertaining the law applicable to the facts before charging the jury.

This bill I presented, or sponsored, on behalf of the Allegheny County Bar Association, which unanimously endorsed it, and I understand it was also informally endorsed by the State Bar Association.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, This bill has already been explained to you, and the gentleman from Allegheny has very carefully explained just what this bill will do. Now, I am opposed to this bill and for this reason: In the first place, every judge sitting on the bench is human. They are likely to make mistakes, very often they slip over something and make an error. Now with a law like this there is nothing at that time to call the attention of the court to the error which they made in the charge. I have seen many many times, not in our own court but in others, where the exception has been made in open court, as is now required, and the court has seen his error and immediately corrected it before the jury went out. Now, you can see the advantage was not only to the court but to the litigants as well. For instance, we hear a case and immediately before the jury goes out, or immediately upon going out, I, being one of the counsel in the case, arise and make my exception. The court hears this exception and immediately agrees with me that he has made the slip. He calls the jury back, or perhaps it is before they have gone out, and he corrects that error. Therefore, the jury goes out with the correct law. Otherwise that jury goes out, and perhaps the slip that he made has nothing to do as far as the decision of that jury is concerned. It might not move the jury in the least, but he is bound by reason of his mistake to grant a new trial and that means that that case goes over for a term, at least, before it is tried again, which causes a delay. Now, there is no reason that I can see for a lawyer who is trying a case and it is much easier, I agree with you, for the attorney to sit at his table and not take any notes and not pay any attention and let the judge go on, and then get up in his seat and say, "I take a general exception." That is what we call a lazy way of practicing law. But for the lawyer who is trying the case and watching every point, it is no trouble for him to sit and note the different points upon which he wants to except at the end of the charge, and then make his exception and give the court the chance to correct any error which he might have made. Surely, if there is anything in the world that litigants or attorneys, even, despise and are trying to get away from, it is unnecessary delay; and I can very readily see how a law like this will cause innumerable unnecessary delays. As I said before, in many courts we have the terms three months apart. For instance, I think the terms in civil cases in Philadelphia and Delaware County are practically the same—the first monday of March, the first Monday of June, the third Monday of September and the first Monday of December. Your case must be at issue and on the trial list for forty days before the beginning of each term. Now, by reason of a slip by the court if that case is in error, and if that case goes over, you have to wait three months before it is tried again; and all that delay, two trials instead of one, and the busy lawyer who has tried the case once has had enough without having it tried again unnecessarily. I say, therefore, that this is not a good law, that there is no reason why the lawyer should not be alert and watch the charges in the court all along, keeping his notes, and being able at the end of that to rise in his seat and expect specifically. It is not only due by him to his client, but it is also the duty of the attorney to call the attention of the court immediately to any error he might have made, so that it might be corrected right away, and I can see no purpose except to make it easy for a lawyer, perhaps, in the trial of his case, and I ask you, therefore, to defeat this bill.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill has received very thorough and careful consideration in the committee. We heard numerous lawyers both pro and con, and the bill came out so that the whole House may vote on the matter. It seems as if the State Law Association is favorable to the bill. It seems as if the Law Association of Pittsburgh and Allegheny is favorable to the bill. The Law Association of Philadelphia differ from the rest and is not favorable to the bill, although the bill is not altogether unfavorable to the lawyers. Some lawyers in this House from Philadelphia, think it is a good bill, some think it is not. I wanted to explain that to you so that you would know that our differences of opinion are honest differences of opinion.

My thought and opinion on the matter is this: That the bill is not named properly, that it should be entitled, "An Act to enable a lazy lawyer to get a living in a very easy way." The problem before this House, is whether you are going to help the lazy lawyer, or whether you are going to help the wide awake energetic lawyer. What the bill does is this: You can sit at the table and listen to everything going on, you can wait and hope for the judge to make a mistake, keeping your mouth shut, going back to your office, going over the charge and over the testimony, and over the facts in your case, or over the charge particularly, find an error and go back and get a new trial. Now, is that fair? Is it the best public policy for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to adopt? Isn't it the better public policy to leave out the lawyers entirely, leave out the interests of lawyers altogether; isn't it the better public policy to say to the lawyer sitting at that table if you hear that judge make a mistake get up and tell him that he made a mistake, and then if the judge persists in his error, take your exception right then and there and then you are entitled to your new trial. Is it fair to the Commonwealth, is it fair to the judge, is it fair to the hundreds of untried cases that a lawyer should sit there, let the judge make a mistake, keep his mouth shut, and then have a new trial? Isn't the judge entitled to the best that is in the lawyer that sits at the trial table; isn't he entitled to have his opinion corrected right then and there? How many judges are there when they make a mistake and you get up and say," If the courts please, you have erred," that they don't correct the error? The opponents to this bill say that some judges when you get up and say to them, "If the court please, I think your Honor has erred in this respect," that they get arrogant and don't say anything but things against your side of the case, while, if you are a good wide awake lawyer you say somethings back to that judge in behalf of your side of the case. Now, what is the best policy?

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am heartily in favor of the purpose of this bill. My own opinion of the measure is that it is intended to simplify the practice of law and to protect the client in the event it is discovered that exceptions were not taken to the charge of the court at the time they probably should have been taken, and where, perhaps, a court delivers the charge so fast that proper notes cannot be transcribed by the counsel for either side. Now, I am of the opinion that the distinguished Bar Association of Pittsburgh and the great number of distinguished lawyers,—and the ablest lawyers, you will realize, are working for the simplification of justice, not for technical advantages, but in order that, in the end, justice substantial justice, may be subserved to the parties or the litigants in the suit. And when the bar association, with their experience, present a measure of this character for the purposes that I have mentioned, I personally am willing to subscribe to their opinion. My own experience has been that a measure of this kind would, on different occasions, have been of incalculable value, particularly where a court is indisposed to consider exceptions, unless they were made technically at the time they should have been made, and therefore I think that if this bill is passed, it will subserve justice, it will simplify practice and it will promote the interests of the general public in getting from the courts what they go to the courts to get; namely, a just decision of their cases.

Mr. PRICE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I just want to point out that the law, as it would be laid down by this act, if it passed, was in effect for more than one hundred years prior to the Act of 1911, and every one got along very well with the law as it then existed. Now, in 1911, the Legislature passed the Act of 1911, and the purpose of the men back of that act was to make it clear that when the lawyers went, at the time of the charge, and asked for a general exception, that the court would not have the right to refuse the exception. The wording of the act was rather unfortunate, and while five or six years after the Act of 1911 was passed, our present chief justice discovered the wording of the act and handed down one of the first opinions, laying down the rule that the lawyers, in taking exception to the charge of the court, would have to make the point of their exception specific. Now, then, the members of the bar in Allegheny County and the State Bar Association as well, do not think that that ruling of the Supreme Court has resulted in substantial or anything like substantial justice in a great many cases and there is now on the books a record of a great many cases where the Supreme court has refused to consider reversable, the matters of error, because specific exception was not made and was not taken by the lawyer at the trial of the case. Now, let us consider the question for a minute in regard to the specific exceptions, if they really mean anything or not. It is perfectly proper for a lawyer, at the close of the charge of the court, to say, "I except to that part of the court's charge which relates to the measure of damages," or to couch his exceptions in some such general term as that, which really means that in the practical application of the rule that he doesn't specify the error that he alleges any more than when he takes a general exception to the charge. Now, then, it is not asking too much of our judges to say that they must, during the trial of the case, prepare themselves on the law, so that when the time comes for them to deliver their charge, they can do so with clearness, and have all the points of law clearly in their minds and make them clear to the jury. During the trial of the case, the question of the admission of testimony coming up, the judge hears the attorney's report, he hears the arguments pro and con, he has these matters firmly fixed in his mind. You come along to the time, just before he delivers the charge of the court. He has the right to ask the attorneys to present their points, that is, ask them, in their points, to specify the principles of law which they think apply to the particular case, and he has a right to rule on these points. He has the right, at any time during the proceedings, to ask the attorneys to present briefs on any particular matter or any disputed question of law in the case, and he has a right to ask them for oral arguments so that it is not asking too much of the judge, when the time comes for the closing of the case, after they consider the matter, after he has had all the matters of the counsel brought out, and the different points, to get the principles of law clearly defined and applicable to the case in correct practice.

Now, then, this is not a lawyer's bill, it is not designed to make the practice of law any easier for the lawyers, but if the judge makes a mistake in the principles of law applicable to the case, is it right and is it just to deny the client of the lawyer the right of appeal because the attorney has not made a specific exception to the mistake involved in the case? It is not the lawyer's interests, it is not the judge's interests that we are considering, it is the interest of the client, and if the court cannot state the principles of law correctly, then I say a new trial ought to be granted and an appeal granted if it goes to an appeal. It is not the judge we are considering, it is not the lawyer we are considering; it is the interests of the client and the application of substantial justice to the case as you go before the court. I think this bill is designed to make judges more careful in administering their charge, and I think that the judges have become more lax under the rules now applicable to the specific exceptions, and I think that the bill should be passed and I ask your support.

Mr. LUDLOW. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, while I represent the first legislative district of Montgomery County and have lived there for a number of years, I occupy the hybrid position of living and having my political existence in one county, but since 1904, I have practiced at the bar in Philadelphia. Before 1911, when that act was passed, I was familiar with the practice which the Act of 1911 established. I am very strongly in favor of the bill which is now presented to this House. After all, let us forget that it is not for lawyers, as they said in a certain recent speech that they forget before they started. Lets forget that some of us are lawyers and lets look at this, if we can, from the standpoint of the individual citizen, man or women, sent here from the home district to try to work out substantial justice. Now, technicalities aside, what do we care whether it is the judge's fault or the counsel's fault? The important thing is, has a mistake been made, if a mistake has been made, which can be corrected in order to bring about exact justice? Then, why not disregard the technical arguments and get down to exact justice and permit by the passage of this act such corrections as may not, in the heat of action, but may in calm reflection, afterwards, allow us to correct mistakes. With all due deference and with sincerity for my friend from Delaware, Mr. Alexander, and my friend from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers, I want to say that many litigants are not fortunate enough to be represented by counsel who are such good court lawyers as they. I mean that absolutely, sincerely; and some lawyers who do not have that large court practice are not acquainted with these points. The judge, you must not forget, sits on the bench day after day. This doesn't apply to matters of fact. If there are questions of fact, under the bill, counsel must call if you will notice in file folio 4145, counsel must call the court's attention to the mistakes of fact.

There is no change under the act of 1911 there. Before when we had the act and got a general exception, the thing we now want back, if mistakes were made the court always asked counsel please to indicate errors made by the trial judge so that he might correct them, and those counsel who were square to the court were mighty glad to tell the court what the mistakes were so there would not be necessity for a new trial, but this protects the client back of the man who in the heat of action has missed a point that the judge has made when he is giving his charge. It seems to me that the action of the Allegheny Bar Association is a proper one, not for the lawyer, not for the judge but more important than that, for you and me who as litigants may come before that court and seek real justice. I hope the bill passes.

Mr. GOEHRING. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, as I presume we are not all lawyers, I want to repeat one or two little facts to you, as Mr. Ludlow said to you on questions of fact, you can't take advantage on any question of fact itself, only on the law. Now, as far as it being a lazy lawyer's job, it is not any more a lazy lawyer's job than it is a lazy judge's job, and there are two lawyers, one on each side of the table, so it doesn't apply to one side of the table and not to the other. It applies to both sides of the table. Now, you would not want to be represented by a lawyer who happened to let the law slide by, and after the jury has gone out and brought in a verdict against, you don't want to be in a position that you can't take advantage of any mistake of law made by the judge. The judge is not one hundred per cent perfect. Show me a man that is in any capacity, I don't care who he is. It is merely to allow either side of the table to take advantage of any law that may be misconstrued on the part of the judge, who is not one hundred per cent. Is there anything wrong in that? Absolutely not. It is a fair bill, and our bar and our judges drafted this bill and sent it down to us, and we ask you men to pass it.

Mr. BREWSTER. Mr. Speaker, one phase of this act that I desire to call the attention of the members of the House to, and concurring in everything that has been said. In regard to a civil action, those who have spoken in support of this measure, I concur with them in every respect, but I desire to call the attention of the members of this House to this fact, that it not only refers to civil trials but it refers to criminal action, and surely a man who is on trial for his life or his liberty should have the advantage of having a mistake corrected by the court, even a week after the trial if necessary, rather than send a man to the electric chair, perhaps, or to the penitentiary for a long term of years, because some judge has made a mistake and because of the technicality of the law that mistake cannot be corrected, and only at the trial of the case, as has been suggested by the speaker who just left the floor, and by Mr. Ludlow, and in the heat of a trial and especially perhaps, a criminal trial, the lawyer may overlook something or may not catch some remark that the judge makes in his charge, would it be fair to a poor criminal to be charged with some serious crime, that he should not have the advantage of an exception which might be taken by his counsel? In behalf of this kind of people I ask you to support this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mrs. de YOUNG. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1007, entitled:

An Act to amend an act approved the first day of June one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws six hundred and sixty-one) entitled 'An Act relating to the maintenance of insane feeble-minded and other persons confined in the various institutions of the Commonwealth fixing liability for their support providing for the collection of moneys due the Commonwealth therefor and for proceedings relating thereto"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Clarion, Mr. William F. Marshall, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WILLIAM F. MARSHALL. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the sponsor of this bill whether under the provisions of this bill the Commonwealth is not placed at a decided disadvantage in the collection of claims due from lunatic's estates?

Mr. WILLIAM F. MARSHALL. I would say, no, in answer to that question.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, this bill provides that "the State shall not be permitted to object to the claim of the county or the poor district on the ground that the same or any part is barred by the statute of limitations." In other words, as I see it, the state is prevented from setting up a defense that an ordinary suitor would be permitted to set up in any court of justice. It seems to me that the Commonwealth should not place itself in this position. The counties have their county solicitors who are supposed to be vigilant in collecting the claims of the county and if the counties slip up on their rights I see no reason why the state should be prevented from exercising a right that any ordinary suitor would exercise against a claim that would be presented against him. In other words we are taking away from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania the right to intercept the bar of the statute of limitations against a claim that the State might have. I feel that for this reason this bill should not pass.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from York, Mr. Spangler.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from York, Mr. Spangler, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SPANGLER. Yes sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ALEXANDER. The fact is the statute of limitations does not run against the Commonwealth?

Mr. SPANGLER. That is true.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Do you think it is fair therefore if the statute does not run against the Commonwealth? It should be just the same for one side as for the other.

Mr. SPANGLER. But the statute of limitations does run against the county and does run against an ordinary suitor, and I don't see why we should place the county in a position that it does not have now as against the rest of the Commonwealth.

Mr. ALEXANDER. In a case of this kind, where just as has been stated, the statute of limitations does not run against the Commonwealth, I cannot see any reason why it is not just as fair to have the statue of limitations not run against the county. There are many times, and especially in cases of this kind, the same reasons practically exists, and why should it not run against the Commonwealth. The county of course is not brought into contact perhaps with the circumstances until some time has elapsed, therefore, as can be argued by the one side or the other, why should one party have any more advantage than the other. I cannot see any reason why the county should be prejudiced by the statute of limitations any more than the Commonwealth.

Mr. RHODES. This bill in my opinion merely equalizes the position of the county or poor district and that of the State. In fact it takes care of the decision rendered by the Superior Court where it was held that the county had the statute of limitations to contend with the Commonwealth did not. In fact I have personally had a case just like this, where a man was committed to Farview, and it was discovered subsequently that he had some estate. The Commonwealth came in with a large claim of about $3,000 for maintenance, and the county had a claim of two or three thousand dollars for maintenance. The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania took practically all of that fund due to the fact that the county could only claim for a period of six years. In my opinion, the county being a subdivision of the Commonwealth, or the poor district, being a subdivision of the Commonwealth should not have the statute of limitations run against it any more than the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania when they are both going after the same fund. Therefore, I believe that this bill should be passed because it merely puts the county or the poor district that has contributed toward the maintenance of some indigent person on the same basis as the Commonwealth which has also contributed toward the maintenance of that particular individual. There is no reason why the county should have something, and there is no reason, in my opinion why the Commonwealth should have it all. The county should have its pro rata share, and there should be no distinction insofar as the statute of limitation is concerned in matters of this kind.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Rinn, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. RINN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I wish the sponsor of this bill would explain its purpose.

Mr. RINN. Mr. Speaker, I have been asked to explain this bill. I think the old members thoroughly understand it. However, for the information of the new members, I would say that this bill authorizes the Public Service Commission to eliminate 2% of the grade crossings in this State annually on all main lines. Another feature that has been added to the bill is that no new grade crossings can be built on grade and that is all there is to this bill.

Mr. ARMSTRONG. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Lehigh.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lehigh Mr. Rinn, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. RINN. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. ARMSTRONG. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Lehigh if he has consulted the Welfare Department on this bill.

Mr. RINN. I have not.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of the bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Rinn, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. RINN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SOWERS. I would like to know if this bill applies to narrow gauge railroads.

Mr. RINN. It does not, it only goes on main lines.

Mr. SOWERS. What is the difference between this bill and the bill introduced in other sessions?

Mr. RINN. I will explain that to you. In the last session the bill that I introduced was passed unanimously, both in the House and Senate. Governor Sproul thought he could sign the bill, and he was a very good fellow with me, but objections came from the Public Service Commission that it interfered with their plans, otherwise this bill would be on the statute books.

Mr. SOWERS. Will you explain to the House what plans the Public Service Commission had with reference to your bill?

Mr. RINN. None, nobody knows that; God knows it, probably.

Mr. SOWERS. I have but one more interrogatory to address to my friend. Can you explain to the House why so little of the bill is underscored?

Mr. RINN. We only underscore the important features. You, as a lawyer, ought to know that much.

Mr. SOWERS. One interrogatory always brings forth another, but this will be the last. The main feature seems so small that I do not seem to understand it. Will you explain?

Mr. RINN. I do not want to say anything out of the road, but if you do not understand the English language, I cannot explain it.

Mr. SOWERS. That is just the trouble. I thought I was on the right road, but it seems from the remarks of my friend that I am getting on the narrow gauge.

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I do not care to interrogate the gentleman from Lehigh, I am coming to his support on this very meritorious measure. Since a similar bill was introduced in this House some four years ago, the sponsor informs me that something like 900 grade crossings have been eliminated. I hope he will let the good-work go on, and if it fails to pass now. I hope he will be here two years from now with this same bill.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1395 (Senate Bill No. 297), entitled:

An Act to quiet the title to real estate; and to enable citizens of the United States and corporations authorized to hold real estate within this Commonwealth to hold and convey title to real estate which has formerly been held or conveyed by, to, or for corporations not authorized by law to hold the same.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, this bill according to the title, reads exactly like a bill that I introduced and which passed through the House and Senate and was signed by the Governor at least six weeks ago. This seems to be a very important bill, as I had this same bill postponed here last week. I ask Mr. Golder whether this was a hocus pocus bill and he said, it was. I move, Mr. Speaker, that this bill be again placed on the postponed calendar.

Mr. HEFFERNAN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. KOHLER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to hear the remarks of the gentleman from Washington, with reference to this bill.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Lackawanna desires to interrogate the gentleman from Washington. Will the gentleman from Washington permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WALKER. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. KOHLER. Did I understand you to say that a similar bill is in the hands of the Governor, or is about to go to the Governor?

Mr. WALKER. It has been signed by the Governor, I understand.

Mr. KOHLER. Would you inform me what bill it was.

Mr. WALKER. I take it from the title, this is exactly like the bill which I introduced here early in the session, and I have word from the Governor that he signed it at least six weeks ago.

Mr. KOHLER. Mr. Speaker, I have followed my calendar very closely and I do not remember of a similar bill being introduced in this session. This bill simply provides that where a corporation has acquired title to real estate, where it is not now entitled to hold title, that the conveyance made by that corporation is valid, and I cannot see why you can have any objection to this bill. I, therefore, believe that we ought to vote on it tonight.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, House Bill No. 233, white folio 161, was introduced by Mr. Walker on February 7th, an Act to quiet the title to real estate, and was approved by the Governor on March 20th. I think that is the bill the gentleman has in mind.

Mr. WALKER. That is the one to which I refer, and I think it is the same bill. I have no objection to passing this bill, but I do not think it is necessary.

On the question recurring,
Will the House agree to the motion?
It was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1394, (Senate Bill No. 296), entitled:

An Act to amend section two of the act approved the twentieth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one, (P. L. 944), entitled "An Act authorizing the establishment by counties of hospitals, for the treatment of persons afflicted with tuberculosis: providing for the management and maintenance thereof; and authorizing the incurring of indebtedness and the levy of taxes therefor," by empowering the county commissioners and county controller, where such office exists, to take by eminent domain proceedings land necessary for the establishment of such hospitals; giving the board of trustees powers concurrent with the county commissioners and county controller in reference to the planning and construction of such hospitals.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HORNE. Mr. Speaker, I should like to ask someone who is familiar with the bill about a point in it.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Cambria desires to inquire if anyone in the House is familiar with the bill.

Mr. GOLDER. I am, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HORNE. As I read this bill I take it that the trustees of the institution with the controller and the commissioners would have power to specify and build this institution. Is that correct?

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker, as Senator Joyce explained this bill to me, the act of 1921 permitted the health departments of various localities, and of counties particularly, to purchase sites for the construction of hospitals for tubercular patients. I am advised that in one county particularly, and I believe that it is Luzerne, an attempt has been made by the local authorities to purchase what they considered the most favorable site for the purpose, and have offered to the people who have the ground, and who have only owned it for a period of 18 months, a 100% increase on the amount which they themselves paid for the ground, and these people have declined to sell and ask a most exorbitant increase. The real purpose of this bill is to authorize the local authorities to take by eminent domain, the same as they would for school purposes, ground on which to build these institutions, and it gives the trustees a voice in the selection of the ground to be taken. I think this is the only change made in the original act of 1921.

Mr. HORNE. Mr. Speaker, this is departing from the custom as it now is, giving authority to the comptroller and the county commissioners to transact this business. The question in my mind is whether it is right to hold the commissioners responsible for the purchase and maintenance of an institution and then allow another board to be placed on an equal basis in voting power, and in that case the trustees and the comptroller would have a majority vote. That is my reason for rising to object to this bill. My attention was called to it by the commissioners of my county coming down on the train. They said that perhaps that board of trustees and the comptroller would overrule them and yet they would be compelled to spend the money provided for the construction, and they felt the bill was unfair to the commissioners in that respect.

Mr. GOLDER. As I read the act, Mr. Speaker, the county commissioners and the county controllers still retain the right to select the site, except that it gives them the right to join with the Board of Trustees. As I read the act particularly, on page 2 of the Act, which is file folio Senate 915, it states: "If a majority of the voters having voted upon such question at such election shall be in favor of the establishment of the hospital the county commissioners the county controller where such office exists, and the board of trustees shall select the site," so it does not take the right away from the county commissioners, and in the last analysis, as in the original bill, the site selected must be confirmed by the Commissioner of Health of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. I understand from the statistician of the State Health Department, that they have had great difficulty in securing proper sites for these county hospitals.

Mr. HORNE. The statement made by the gentleman from Philadelphia is perfectly true, but the other statement is also true that the voting power would be taken out of the hands of the county commissioners and give the Board of Trustees and the Controller the majority vote to decide the matter, but then the commissioners would be compelled to make the expenditure. That is my point.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, There is a point in this bill to which I want to call your attention. The act, if you remember it, sometime ago provided that counties might vote on the question of tuberculosis hospitals. In some counties of the state the vote was taken and the measure carried. I think it was carried at the time without very much thought about what was going on. I am now referring to the county of Delaware, in which I live. There was no opposition and very little discussion. Now, finally, the commissioners start out to locate a site for the hospital in the county of Delaware, a thickly populated county, especially the eastern part where a great majority of people live in boroughs and well built up districts. Nobody wanted the tuberculosis hospital, not even the people who voted for it, under their nose. They have attempted to take sites that absolutely would be a detriment and an eye-sore to the owners of the properties they tried to purchase. But they could not buy them, not that they wanted too much money for them, but because they do not want them located in their neighborhood. Now this bill gives permission for the county commissioners to condemn a piece of ground and build the hospital. In other words, a man has a farm or a country residence and they can take it. Now, if there is anything in the world that is detrimental to the cure of a tubercular patient, it is to put them in a climate such as we have along a river front or close to the Delaware river, as in Delaware county. No person would think of keeping their friends or their relatives in a tuberculosis hospital in Delaware county; they send them to the mountains, to the high air, to the cold, where they get the air they need. That is the place for tubercular patients, yet this provides, that if this bill pass, they can go anywhere that the county commissioners and the county comptrollers see fit. On the other hand, if it goes to the extreme, there is a possibility of their using a little politics in it to get square with somebody, and condemn a man's land. They can do the same thing in Philadelphia as they do in Delaware county, and condemn a man's land for the purpose of building a hospital right near another man's residence. Of course, they don't pay the damages, the condemnation award is paid by the county. I know in the county of Delaware the county commissioners have been endeavoring to build this hospital on the best land in the county today, and I think taking the purpose it is for, and there can be only one purpose in building these hospitals, that is for the care of tubercular patients, and that object is a good object, but I am told by men who treat tubercular patients, by men high up in the profession, that to treat a tubercular patient properly they should be away from their friends, away where they get good air and not right in the homes where people can visit them, and visit them so often. There is no reason for this bill, nor is there any necessity for it, therefore I say, it only works a hardship.

We have condemnation of property now, and I admit that to take it for a railroad and other things of great public interest, a man no matter how valuable his property is, or whether it may be a homestead, there is no reason for him to stand in the way of public progress, and that is the reason for the right of eminent domain, but there is no reason for a bill of this kind, for tis is not a project like the building of a railroad which starts at a given point and ends at another and must take over the properties that stand in its line. This is for the public benefit and it is not proper that a man sitting in the line of that railroad should stop the progress of that railroad, As I said before, this is not a case of that kind. They can build tuberculosis hospitals on the high hills and mountains and they don't have to condemn properties in the counties. I think, therefore, that this is not a good bill.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. GIBBONS: Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the postponed calendar.

Mr. SOWERS, Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

on the third reading postponed calendar, be given an extension of five days time.

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. DILSHEIMER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, while I have no objection whatever to make upon these postponements, I do think that agreements of that kind are altogether out of order. We are here to serve the Commonwealth, to do our duty, and I think it is only right that those members who absent themselves with leaves should be here to attend to their duties, as well as we are. Our postponed calendar is getting into such condition that we are clogged up with business for the future. We are here to do our duty and to transact business the way it should be transacted, and I want to serve notice that from now on, I will object to any such motions. It is out of order and shows disrespect to those members who are giving their time to their Commonwealth and attending to their duties, and it is no more than fair to us who are here that those who have absented themselves without leaves should be here as well as we are.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

BILL PLACED ON THE CALENDAR.

Mr HAINES. Mr. Speaker, I move that Senate Bill No. 217, file folio 163, entitled:

An Act to amend section one of an act approved the thirteenth day of April one thousand eight hundred and eighty-seven (Pamphlet Laws twenty-one) entitled "An Act for the establishment of a uniform standard of time throughout the Commonwealth" prohibiting the adoption of other standard time be placed upon the calendar, notwithstanding the negative recommendation of the committee.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I feel that this a bill that should have careful consideration. It is a bill that a great many of our people are interested in, and I feel it should be placed upon the calendar and let us go to the bat on it, debate the issue and decide on its merits. I recognize the fact that a great many people are not familiar with what this means, and I think it is only fair that we should place the bill on the calendar in order that we may discuss it and vote intelligently on it. Therefore, I am going to ask the members of this House to vote to put this bill on the calendar.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker, personally, I shall vote against the Derrick Daylight Saving Bill. It was the thought of tne committee today that discussed the bill, that while many of those who are opposed to the bill desire the bill to be placed on the calendar and the issues be met fairly and squarely, yet we did not wish the impression to get out that the committee as a whole approved the bill. The actual vote taken by the committee after careful consideration showed that the committee as a committee, was opposed to the bill and they wanted to be fair to themselves as a committee and fair to the House and to submit a report upon their own vote, that is, that they are opposed to the bill. As one of those who is opposed to the bill, and who voted to report it with a negative recommendation, and I think I speak for some of my colleagues who are also opposed to the bill, I feel that the bill is of such importance and such state-wide interest that the bill should be placed on the calendar. I speak only for myself and as one opposed to the bill and in favor of daylight saving, I think, with my colleague, Mr. Heyburn, that the bill is of such importance that it should be placed on the calendar.

On the question recurring,
Will the House agree to the motion?
It was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 898, entitled:

An Act to amend route number sixty-three of section six of an act approved the thirty-first day of May, one thousand nine hundred and eleven, (P. L. 468), entitled "An act providing for the establishment of a State Highway Department, by the appointment of a State Highway Commissioner, two Deputy State Highway Commissioners, chief engineer, chief draughtsman, superintendents of highways, and a staff of assistants and employes; defining their duties and the jurisdiction of the State Highway Department, and fixing salaries of Commissioners and deputies and other appointees; providing for taking over from the counties or townships of the Commonwealth certain existing public roads connecting county-seats, principal cities, and towns and extending to the State line; describing and defining same by route numbers as the State Highways of the Commonwealth; providing for the improvement, maintenance, and repair of said State highways solely at the expense of the Commonwealth, and relieving the several townships or counties from any further obligation and expense to improve or maintain the same, and relieving said townships or counties of authority over same; requiring boroughs and incorporated towns to maintain certain State highways wholly and in part; requiring the State Highway Commissioner to make maps to be complete records thereof; conferring authority on the State Highway Commissioner; providing for the payment of damages in taking of property, or otherwise, in the improvement thereof; providing for purchase or acquiring of turnpikes or toll-roads forming all or part of any State highway, and procedure therein; providing for work of improvement of State highways to be done by contract, except where the State Highway Commisioner decides the work be done by the State; providing aid by the State to counties and townships desiring the same in the improvement of township or county roads; defining highways and State-aid highways; providing method of application for State aid in the improvement, maintenance, and repair of township or county roads, and prescribing the contents of township, county, borough, or incorporated town petitions; providing for percentage of cost of improvement or repairs to be paid by State, county, township, borough, or incorporated town, and requiring contracts by counties, townships, boroughs, and incorporated towns with Commonwealth governing same; providing for the minimum width of State highways and State-aid highways, and kind of materials to be used in the improvement; providing for payment of cost of improvement and repairs; providing penalty for injuring or destroying State highways; making appropriations to carry out the provisions of the act; and providing for the repeal of certain acts relating to Highway Department and improvement of roads, and of all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith; and providing that existing contracts are not affected by provisions of this act," as amended.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WHEELER. Mr. Speaker, I believe that a word of explanation is due the members of the House. This bill, like the next bill and the bill on page 19, are highway bills, which come under the general description of mileage reducers, recently reported from the Committee on Public Roads. This bill, like the other bill, provides that after if and when a State highway already established is improved and a new route is chosen, the cost of construction will be greatly lessened and a far better line for through traffic will be provided. These bills, as I understand it, have the approval of the Highway Department.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I have been asked by some members of the House to say a word in explanation of this bill. In as much as it is a technical measure it is meant to meet this situation. If a man owns real estate and gives a mortgage to the mortgagee, the mortgagee then accounts for that mortgage in his return on personal property and the locality then taxes upon it. If then the owner of the property proceeds to sell it to a corporaion, then the individual mortgagee no longer pays taxes to the locality, but the corporation returns the tax to the state, deducting four mills from the interest that is due on the mortgage. Now, unfortunately the individual makes out his return on personal property in the fall, in November or December, and the corporation makes out its return in the spring, and the consequence is that it has happened in many cases that there has been duplication of taxes, that first the individual has paid his tax to the locality and then secondly it is again taxed, subject to his interest, by the corporation, and the result has been a serious problem due to duplicate taxation which has been exceedingly hard to meet. This provides that where a corporation buys property upon which there is outstanding a mortgage it must notify the mortgagee at once that it has assumed the tax that is due on that mortgage, and then the individual no longer needs to return it on his return of personal property. I might say that this bill was on the calendar about a month ago and at the request of the Auditor General it was referred to his Department so that the language might be technically correct, and it comes now with the approval of the Auditor General, to stop this very onerous business of duplicating taxes upon security.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. McDaniel,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 557, entitled:

An Act relating to the assignment of rights to receive or recover a debt or money

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Fayette, Mr. McDaniel, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McDANIEL. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ALEXANDER. I would like to ask the gentleman from Fayette what the purpose of this bill is.

Mr. McDANIEL. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this is the third time I explained the purpose of this bill, and I think the members of the House are thoroughly familiar with the provisions of it. The bill as I explained before is for the purpose of making more simple the procedure as it now is in the bringing of suits, in that it does away, or it is intended to do away with the burdensome method of using the name of every person who may have become the owner of a chose in action. By this method instead of the attorney bringing the suit in the name of all the parties, and using the useless method of quoting, "for the use of," which is a phrase which they use, the parties will bring the action directly in the name of the real party in interest, that is the owner who owns the chose in action, and the statement of claim which he files with the praecipe in the case will state the trend, or the chain of his title naming the parties from whom he received the chose in action, and the manner in which he received it. This will give complete notice to the party who is defendant in the case. It simply is simplifying, or doing away with a burdensome method now used in bringing actions.

Mr. ALEXANDER. From what the gentleman says the only simplification that will be in it is that instead of four or five or six names in the title of your suit there will be only one?

Mr. McDANIEL. That is the idea.

Mr. ALEXANDER. So far as the real typewriting or work is concerned on your statement of claim you will have to set out your claimants just the same.

Mr. McDANIEL. You usually do anyway.

Mr. ALEXANDER. You usually do now, but I mean under this bill.

Mr. McDANIEL. Yes.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Practically the only thing it will do, it will save your typewriter perhaps one to five minutes time in writing the caption.

Mr. McDANIEL. That is not correct. It will also save the indexing under the different names on the part of the prothonotary, the writing of all the names by the prothonotary on the copies of the writ, and the indexing by the clerk of all the plaintiffs in a case when he comes to serve the writ.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, so that some of the members, who are not members of the bar, may know just exactly the procedure, let me say that A gives B a judgment, A assigns that judgment to C and it is then marked to the use of C. C perhaps assigns it or sells it to D, and the judgment then is marked on the record to the use of D. And that might go on indefinitely, as the gentleman has stated, through a number of hands. You have the record there in the prothonotary's office showing A to the use of C, to the use of B, against B. Then when you bring suit, of course, naturally you bring suit according to the caption, and according to the title of the suit on your judgment docket, and that is the proper thing to do. In other words, everything that is in your title on your judgment docket you put in your suit just the same as if it was a trespass case of Thomas Bluett against the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company; you would put the title in there. This looks to me like a practice to save typewriting and a little time, but it surely is not a good practice to abbreviate a caption or to cut out anything in the title of a suit, and especially when the statement of the claim is filed. You still have to show your title and who was the last claimant, that is where all the work is in your statement of claim afterward, so I can see no reason why our statute books should be encumbered with a bill of this kind, when it serves no purpose.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker I want first to address myself to those of you who are not members of the bar, and incidentally to those who used to be members of the bar. Let us assume that you have an obligation, let us assume that that obligation, you, Smith, owned it. You transfer it over to Jones. Now, Jones, goes and sues on the obligation, starts his suit, Smith to the use of Jones, and the prothonotary's records reads, Smith to the use of Jones. Now I had this happened to me: One time I happened to represent Jones and another lawyer represented Smith, and when I was representing him, in came the attorney that represented Smith and discontinued the suit on me. Now, that is not fair. Let Jones who is the real plaintiff and the real man in the case, let him stand out as the plaintiff, and let him fight his case to the end, and prevent Smith from coming in and discontinuing the suit and satisfying the judgment. This bill would not accomplish real justice.

Mr. BLUETT. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, there is one more thing that I want to point out in regard to this bill, and I will try to do it in untechnical language so that you can all understand it. At first, I was rather in favor of this because I thought it was simplifying the beginning of suits, but upon looking into it I came to the conclusion that it is not a good bill. We lawyers know that many times suits are started by a simple issue of a writ of summons, and then the plaintiff has a year within which to file a statement of claim. Under this bill the result will be that summons might be filed and served on you by a plaintiff that you have never heard of before, you don't know who he is, you never had any dealings with him and consequently you are unable to determine just how you are going to defend the suit. You will have to wait for one whole year before you will be advised as to who the real plaintiff in the case is, so that you will know how to prepare your defense. I say, therefore, in the interest of justice, that you who may be sued should know who the plaintiff is suing you at the time the writ is issued. This bill should be defeated.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker I am in full accordance with the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Alexander, and I simply want to say that the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Bluett, has made the argument which I was about to make to the House. I think the defendants have some rights, and when a man is brought into court as a defendant he really should have some knowledge as to why it is he is being brought into court. Now, if this bill is passed he does not know anything about what the nature of the claim is and it embarasses him until the statement of claim is filed. If you put a man to the trouble of going into court to defend an action the least you can do is to give him some notification of what the nature of the claim is, and that can only be done by preserving the chain of title which is the thing that this bill aims to destroy. My thought is that that would not be helped at all by the passage of the bill, but rather an injustice would be done.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House this is a bill which proposes to repeal the Act of 1913, creating the Public Service Commission. It substitutes nothing in its place. I cannot imagine any legislature more unfortunate that the one that would repeal the only regulatory measure for public utilities on the statute books, and not substitute anything in its place. There may be defects in the present public service commission law, which should be corrected, it may be there is legitimate ground for that, to abolish all regulations and leave the great mass of public utilities companies in this State, I do not know the exact number but I think there are something like 5000 companies, without any regulation whatever, I think would be most unfortunate, and I simply rise to express my opinion and to hope that the bill will not pass.

Mr. LUDLOW. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, if this bill were to be passed this morning, and concurred in by the Senate, and approved by the Governor, the burden of all the public service regulation would necessarily go back to the county courts. A call would came at once for extra judges and extra compensation, which burden in turn comes back to the state. The same amount of work cannot be done by the county courts, at the expense of the state, for anything like the amount we are paying now to have it done. I agree heartily with what my colleague from Philadelphia, Mr. Edmonds, has said, that if there are defects in the public service commission law, and I personally believe there are some, we can find a way to amend the law, but this is not the way to do it and I do think this bill should be passed.

Mr. JOSEPH MARCUS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House it may be that this bill is placed upon the calendar today with the sincerest motive behind it, but to suddenly brush aside every safeguard that we now have surrounding the regulation of corporations seems to me to be the heighth of foolishness. It may be, I do not know, but it seems there must be some animus behind this legislation which is not of the best kind. If it is for the purpose of securing revenge, perhaps, for some adverse decision, I do not think they should bring it before this House and ask us to take up such a proposition as that. If it is not for such a purpose as that, it is difficult to see the motive behind it, and I ask this House, in all sincerity, not to pass this bill.

Mr. SCHLEITER. Mr. Speaker, there was a clamor for many years for some kind of a tribunal where the people could go for redress. In response to that demand, the Public Service Commission was created, but unfortunately, the people did not get any relief It is necessary today to come here to Harrisburg on some trival little thing a municipality may have at issue with a Public service corporation. We had a case in Beaver County, and the same thing applies to Allegheny County, the case of the Beaver Valley Water Company against their patrons, and it took seven years to decide that case. The Public Service Commission has absolutely no final authority. Now, I am not a lawyer, but I believe the lawyers here will bear me out on that. I was for seven years at the head of the litigation of the citizens vs. the Beaver Valley Water Company, and we were sent Peter to Paul.

The first hearing was held in Pittsburgh, the next three or four in Harrisburg, and the Public Service Commission ruled that the engineers that the State had put on the case the engineers that the people had employed, that their ruling was correct, and ordered the Beaver Valley Water Company to put into effect a rate that would provide for a certain amount of revenue based upon the valuation that State engineers and the engineers for the people placed upon the value of that property. The water company of course, appealed. It went to the superior court and from the superior court to the supreme court, and the supreme court sent it back to the Public Service Commission, and then the Public Service Commission put another rate into effect, or asked the companies to put another rate into effect, and they declined and then went to the supreme court again and the company was sustained, and a bill of thousands of dollars for costs was placed upon the complainants of whom I was one. We found there were about thirty-five citizens who were complainants in this case, and their property was tied up because the water company put on record in the prothonotary's office these costs against each individual complaint.

Now my friends, what have the people really gained by this Public Service Commission? It was intended to offer help, but instead, in some way, because their decisions are not final, because you can appeal, because every side can appeal to the higher courts, those who are complainants and those who are suffering under what they consider wrong have to spend a fortune in order to get their cases where they are finally decided on, and that is in the supreme court. Now my friend, although the old way was not satisfactory, we could have our troubles heard in our county courts. We did not have to travel to Philadelphia or Harrisburg or other places. We did not have to spend $28,000, as we had to do in the water company case. It is to the utter chargin and the utter disappointment and to what most everyone considered a great wrong, when the Public Service Commission in the case of contracts that were made by these public service corporations, by the street car companies the water companies and gas companies, and in most other contracts, which were solemnly made with these companies providing certain things, among some being, in the case of the telephone companies where so many free telephones were granted, in the gas and water companies, free flusher service, and in the case of the electric companies, where the council chamber was to be lighted free of charge, and in the case of the street railways company, they had certain contracts to perform in the way of keeping up the streets or the right of way, all these contracts which were solemnly entered into and which today must be kept up by the municipalities, but not kept up by the public service corporations, have been thrown into the discard by the Public Service Commission ruling that there shall be no more free service. Their powers are limited and then they can only regulate or advise, because the supreme court is the final seat or place of judgment.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. Speaker and members of this House, I would like to know how many persons here, outside of those representing corporate interests, ever had any dealings with the Public Service Commission. If you had had the same dealings with this Commission as I have had, you would probably go on record, as I intend to do, as voting for the abolishment of this Commission.

The corporate interests of this state in the first instance were responsible for its conception; they put the first judges on the bench, they put the last ones on, and they will put on the ones to come unless there is something like this passed for the relief of the municipalities.

I think every city and municipality should be the best judge of the cases that come up in their business.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I concur with what Mr. Edmonds has said that we cannot at this time afford to abolish the Public Service Commission. I believe there are certain defects that stand out in the public service commission law, and I had the pleasure of introducing a bill which passed this House a short time ago that would have, to a great degree, relieved the condition as has been suggested by the gentleman from Beaver, Mr. Schleiter.

One of the greatest handicaps, as I see it, to the Public Service Commission is the delay that is caused in the fixing of rates. In the city of York, we have a situation similar to the situation that the gentleman has just stated occurred in Beaver county, and I have a bill that provides that where there are objections made to the raising of a rate of a water company, or any public utility company, that within 90 days of the time of the protest the protestant can file a petition asking the commission to either suspend or modify those rates, and that in that event the Commission shall immediately institute a preliminary investigation to determine whether that can be done, and to act immediately. Now there is one handicap that the Public Service Commission has been under, and would more or less be under if this bill passed, and that is that we have not in this Legislature given the Public Service Commission as much of a personnel for investigation as the Public Service Commission needs. In other words, in order to properly determine the question of rates it is necessary for the Commission itself, a semi-judicial body, to send engineers into the district for investigation, and if we curtail the Public Service Commission in their appropriaton so that they are unable to employ a sufficient number of engineers and assistants to assist them in arriving at a correct and proper rate, we curtail the effectiveness of the Commission, and we impair their judgment in connection with that particular cause. For that reason I think this Legislature should try out the Commission under conditions where they are enabled to perform the service the law contemplates they shall perform, and to afford them the necessary assistants for the ascertainment of facts.

This piece of legislation of mine I might say, has not received a very hearty reception in the Senate. It has been sent to the pickling committee, and I have been trying for the last few weeks to pick it out of the brine.

Mr. RHODES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I just want to express my opinion briefly upon this subject. I do not think that we want to kill the patient, but I do think we ought to give it some remedial remedies. I think the proposition, as stated by the gentleman from York, Mr. Spangler, is correct. One of the greatest faults of the Public Service Commission, in so far as the public is concerned, has been the ability of the public utilities companies in this state to raise their rates without first having a hearing or having it adjudicated by the Public Service Commission. It seems to me that the Public Service Commission is an absolute necessity under the complexity of ordinary every day life and to eliminate the Public Service Commission at this time with so many thousand public utilities corporations in the state would merely disorganize our economic life.

The Public Service Commission law is not correct in many respects, and I think there are pending certain laws at this time to correct some of these defects. I think that what we want to do is correct the law, correct the public utility law in the place where it is weak, and not eliminate the commission itself so that will nothing but disorganization and demoralization.

I think we should apply the proper remedies and not kill the patient.

Mr. LORENZO D. THOMAS. Mr. Speaker, this question of the Public Service Commission is one that is going to loom large in the affairs of this Commonwealth in the next two years, and I am satisfied that you will find that we will all find that there must be a change take place very soon. I was called into conference no later than last Friday night, sir, in which the recent ruling of the Public Service Commission was handled and deliberated upon by the agents of several municipalities in our district, and when they were agents there from other parts of the State, and I am willing to tell you at this time, gentlemen of the House, that while I have the greatest regard and the fondest respect for the personnel of this Commission, because I did make it one of my, the basis of my campaign in two preceding campaigns, that the Public Service Commission must be retained, and that the personnel of the commission as it is now formed seems to be to our highest conception of what true manhood and disinterestedness means, as we take the biography that is given of the present personnel, personally, there is not one of them but what we would be glad to regard him as a dear friend, but there are other agencies and interests at work, and those interests have shown their hand and the hour has struck for the present under the operation of the Public Service Commission of this Commonwealth. We are confronted with a condition in our locality now that puts us at the very top of the list of high rates for services rendered by the corporations there, particularly the American Gas Utilities Company. I will tell you men, if you had lived for a little while among those people who have been subjected to the indignities, even the atrocities to which they have been subjected you would not deal with this question with gloved hands, and I am making a promise at this time that I think I am reasonably sure, everything considered in a reasonable way, I am making the promise that the affairs or the actions and deliberations of the Public Service Commission will have a large part in the doings of the Legislature when it convenes two years hence.

REQUEST FOR INFORMATION BY COMMITTEE ON RULES

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, I would like to make a statement to the House at this time.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, on April 3rd, the Committee on Rules made a report to you that it was unable to report or recommend a date for final adjournment by reason of the fact that they did not know the number of bills pending in Committees and the time that would be required by the committees in making a report to the House, and they recommended the adoption of the resolution that the chairman of the various committees would make report to the Committee on Rules, not later than April 16th, which was Monday of this week. A letter was sent to the chairman of each committee and a form of report was sent therewith. The Committee on Rules has received nineteen reports from the forty-one committees, and as its charirman, I would request those committees which have not made a report that they do so as early as they can. I appreciate the difficulty in making those reports by some of those committees, but the Committee on Rules cannot intelligently act upon this matter until it has the necessary data from the committees.

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 933, entitled:

An Act authorizing county commissioners to appropriate money from the funds of the county to aid in the planting of trees and the establishment of tree nurseries in aid of the reforestration of the wood lots of farms or any other lands denuded of timber trees which it is desired to reforest

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

On the question,

It was agreed to.

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SCHLEITER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, if I interpret this act correctly, it means that the counties may go into the nursery business. I think it is entirely unnecessary, because if it were applied to every borough, it would be the cause of a great outlay of money. If I understand correctly, trees can be gotten from the State, and even if the trees, the young trees, would cost the nursery prices, or the cost, whatever you are obliged to pay to the tree nurseries, it seems to me this would be a great saving, and I believe this bill is entirely unnecessary and I hope it will be voted down.

Mr. GIBBONS. Mr. Speaker, this bill makes it optional with the counties whether they shall appropriate money for reforestration. This bill was given to me by a citizen of Wilkesbarre, and before is was presented, it was shown to the Governor and it entirely meets with the Governor's approval.

Mr. SCHLEITER. Mr. Speaker, the bill is so indefinite there isn't anything to it, you can construe it any way you see fit.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. Edward S. Ninde, offered the following prayer:

Our Father in Heaven: We come to Thee because we are needy, and Thou hast promised to supply our every need. We are weak and Thou art mighty; we are poor and Thou are rich; we are foolish and ignorant but Thou art wise; we are sinful but Thou art holy. We have friends on earth who are ready to aid us, but there is no friend like Thee. Help us to realize our dependence upon Thee. May we get close to Thee and place our lives in Thy care and keeping. Bless the members of the Senate. Day by day may they look to Thee for guidance, and grant them the leadership they seek. Be with them this evening and throughout the session. For Jesus' sake. Amen.

The ACTING PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE (Mr. John G. Homsher) in the Chair.

RESOLUTION AUTHORIZING THE APPOINTMENT OF COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE CHANGES IN SENATE BILL 586.

Mr. CRAIG offered the following resolution, which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, April 16, 1923.

Whereas, By a resolution introduced in the Senate April 3, 1923, (Legislative Journal, page 1033), the chief clerk of the Senate was authorized to have printed for the use of the Senate twenty-five hundred copies of Senate bill number five hundred eighty-six, which was introduced into the Senate March 27, 1923, and referred to the Finance Committee the same day, and

Whereas, It appears that said copies have been printed, and that in the print thereof a number of additions and corrections have been inserted which do not appear in the original print, therefore be it

Resolved, That the President Pro Tempore of the Senate is directed to appoint an investigating committee, composed of three Senators, one of whom shall be a member of the minority party. Said committee shall investigate the circumstances surrounding the printing of the additional twenty-five hundred copies of Senate bill number five hundred eighty-six and ascertain what changes, if any, were made in said reprint, the effect of such changes, and by whose authority any new matter or corrections, not in the original bill or ordered by the Senate or the Committee on Finance, were inserted in said reprint.

The said committee is authorized to hold such meetings and to summon and interrogate such witnesses as it deems proper. The committee shall have power to subpoena witnesses and require their attendance and the production of books and papers. If any person shall refuse to appear before said committee and testify, or shall refuse to obey any subpoena issued by the committee, the said committee shall report the facts to the Senate for appropriate action.

The committee is hereby directed to make a report of its findings to the Senate and in said report shall set forth its recommendations with regard to any action that it suggests be taken by the Senate.

On the question,
Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. CRAIG. Mr. President, I wish to say to the members of the Senate in explanation of the reason for the introduction of this resolution, that I have been informed by the Chairman of the Committee on Finance that the committee has held no meeting to consider Senate Bill No. 586, and neither the Chairman of that committee, the committee itself nor the Senate, directed or authorized any person to make amendments to this bill.

Last Tuesday afternoon, shortly after the noon hour, I found upon my desk a copy of the bill, one of 2500 copies authorized to be printed by a resolution of the Senate, in addition to the usual number printed for the use of the Senate. Mr. President, I was amazed to find that someone had surreptitiously amended the bill in 156 particulars, that they even had the affrontery to amend the title of that bill, not on the floor of the Senate, as required by the Constitution, but secretly. Mr. President, where and when I do not know, and the purpose of this resolution is to discover that. These amendments are not simply to correct typographical errors. Many of them are, but some introduce entirely new phrases, some entirely new clauses and almost new sections. Mr. President and Gentlemen of the Senate, this is a dangerous situation. It is in my mind, one of extreme danger. Bear in mind that no one had authority to change one single word of Senate Bill No. 586, as introduced in the Senate, and in possession of the Committee on Finance, yet these amendments were surreptitiously inserted, and it is the business of this Senate to find out who assumes to amend Senate Bills without the knowledge or authority of this body. I have observed with growing concern, for many weeks past, a disposition in some quarters here on Capitol Hill to usurp legislative authority. As members of this Senate we not only have the right, but if you are men, instead of long tailed rats, who assumes to usurp the authority of our functions as legislators. This is a disgrace to this Senate a gratuitous insult, a breach of the law and mighty close to a breach of the penal laws of this Commonwealth, and whoever is responsible for the perpetration of this business of political chicanery should be known and should be punished, if there is any law to fit the case. This is the Administration Code, the most important piece of legislation that has come before the Legislature of Pennsylvania in a generation, one that should have been guarded with the utmost care and around the consideration and enactment of which every safeguard should have been thrown, and when it makes its appearance at the very threshold of its consideration with 156 amendments tacked on it by some one unknown to the members of the Senate, it is high time we find out who was the Legislature of Pennsylvania, whether we were amending our legislation or whether we had delegated our authority to some other branch of the government or to some other individual. The framers of our Constitution in their wisdom saw fit, and I say to you that the developments in the last few weeks have proved that they were right,—to throw every safeguard around the enactment of legislation and to provide with great care that no other department of the government should trespass upon the legislative privileges or perogatives. They were wise; they were farseeing men and knew that the liberties of our people depended upon the passage of legislation by the legislature and not legislation adopted or written by some one or some authority outside the membership of this body. That is the reason for this resolution. Mr. President, this act has been changed in 156 particulars and upon our files appears this thing they have sent up to us. It is a disgraceful situation and we must not, not only because we ought to, but because we owe it to ourselves and to the maintenance of our self respect find out who assumes to change legislation pending before this body and to have the people of the state know who assumes to do it. That is the purpose of this resolution. A large number of the sections are changed in as many as ten particulars. Various Boards and commissions provided for in this Code are switched around. Department heads are taken off and others provided in their places, dates are changed, years upon which men shall assume their offices and the years upon which they shall go out are changed, figures are changed, sections are changed about, and in many cases the sense of the paragraph is changed also. I do not think I ought to say more, I do not think there should be any need of it. It is our plain duty when a disgraceful situation like this arises, it is our bounden duty to ourselves and to the people we represent, to find out whether we are legislating in this State or someone else. I hope the Senate will pass this resolution that we may find that out.

And the question recurring,
Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

RESOLUTION RECALLING FROM THE GOVERNOR SENATE BILL No. 337.

Mr. BUCKMAN, offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, April 23, 1923.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That Senate Bill No. 337, File Folio 667, entitled "An act to amend section sixteen of an act, approved the thirty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws four hundred and sixty-eight, entitled 'An act providing for the establishment of a State Highway Department by the appointment of a State Highway Commissioner, two Deputy State Highway Commissioners, chief engineer, chief draughtsman, superintendents of highways, and a staff of assistants and employes, defining their duties and the jurisdiction of the State Highways Department, and fixing salaries of Commissioner and deputies and other appointees; providing for taking over from the counties or townships of the Commonwealth certain existing public roads connecting county-seats, principal cities and towns and extending to the State line; describing and defining same by route numbers as the State highways of the Commonwealth; providing for the improvement, maintenance and repair of said State highways solely at the expense of the Commonwealth and relieving the several townships or counties from any further obligation and expenses to improve or maintain the same and relieving said townships or counties of authority over same; requiring boroughs and incorporated towns to maintain certain State highways wholly and in part; requiring the State Highway Commissioner to make maps to be complete records thereof; conferring authority on the State Highway Commissioner; providing for the payment of damages in taking of property or otherwise in the improvement thereof; providing for purchase or acquiring of turnpikes or toll-roads forming all or part of any State highway and procedure therein; providing for work of improvement of State highways to be done by contract except where the State Highway Commissioner decides the work be done by the State; providing aid by the State to counties and townships desiring the same in the improvement of township or county roads; defining highways and State-aid highways; providing method of application for State aid in the improvement, maintenance and repair of township or county roads and prescribing the contents of township, county, borough or incorporated town petitions; providing for percentage of cost of improvement or repairs to be paid by State, county, township, borough or incorporated town, and requiring contracts by counties, townships, boroughs and incorporated towns with Commonwealth governing same; providing for the minimum width of State Highways and State-aid highways and kind of materials to be used in the improvement; providing for payment of cost of improvement and repairs; providing penalty for injuring or destroying State highways, making appropriation to carry out the provisions of the act, and providing for the repeal of certain acts relating to Highway Department and improvement of roads and of all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith, and providing that existing contracts are not affected by provisions of this act', as amended by providing for payment of damages for change of grades of highways and for appeals from assessments of damages and authorizing counties to incur indebtedness for the payment of such damages", be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

RESOLUTION REQUIRING STATE HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT TO COMPILE AND KEEP AN ACCURATE RECORD BY COUNTIES OF THE AMOUNT OF MONEY RECEIVED AND COLLECTED FROM EACH COUNTY FOR THE REGISTRATION OF MOTOR VEHICLES AND THE LICENSING OF OPERATORS AS WELL AS ALL FINES PAID INTO THE STATE TREASURY UNDER THE MOTOR VEHICLE LAWS OF THE COMMONWEALTH.

Mr. VARE offered the following resolution, which was twice read, as follows:

In the Senate, April 23, 1923.

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur), That it shall be the duty of the State Highway Department to compile and keep an accurate record, by counties, of the amount of moneys received and collected from each county in this Commonwealth for the registration of motor vehicles and the licensing of operators as well as all fines paid into the State Treasury under the motor vehicle laws of the Commonwealth.

On the question,
Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I move that the Resolution be referred to the Committee on Public Roads and Highways.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President the purpose of this resolution is in order that each Senator when he applies for the information from the Highway Department may receive it concerning the amount of the fees paid from the county. I had occasion during the last week to send to the State Highway Department for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of money paid into the State by the county of Philadelphia and I was informed that that was not their method of bookkeeping. This resolutiin simply adds a detail to the clerical part of the State Highway Department. It does not transfer any funds, it simply furnishes a method by which each Senator or each member of the House, might go to the Department and get intelligent information of the amount of funds turned into the State from their respective counties. If the Senator from Bucks has any particular reason for the bill being referred to the committee or desires any other information, I will be very glad to try to answer him tonight.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, the only reason that I made that motion was that the resolution may be properly considered by committee. I do not know the effect of it and I do not think the Senate ought to be asked to give any snap judgment upon it. Therefore, I made the motion that it be referred to the Committee for the purpose of consideration. If that Committee sees fit to report the resolution out I presume it will be reported out, but I see no reason why this resolution, any more than any other resolution or any bill, should not be properly and orderly considered by the Committee in its deliberations.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I agree that the resolution shall be referred to the Committee.

And the question recurring,
Wil the Senate agree to the resolution?
It was agreed to.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, I arise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Chester, Mr. Eyre, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, my question of personal privilege is for a brief discussion of what I regard as the most important question that confronts the Senate of Pennsylvania and the Legislature at this session. We have stayed here now for a period of nearly four months and we have accomplished but very little. We have confronting us two most important functions of this session of the Legislature, the one is appropriations and the second is revenues with which to pay the appropriations. We have heard a great deal for the past year about appropriation liabilities, appropriation deficiencies, and about the mess and conditions that existed at Harrisburg, and I feel that we have reached the point in this session of the Legislature when we want to get down to serious consideration of these matters. The most of the conditions existing at Harrisburg, as I view them, have been brought about through the exigencies of war conditions and the appropriations that have been made to cover the necessities that had arisen during that period, at the last session of the Legislature certain money was appropriated while revenues declined in the dull period following the war.

As I view the situation to-day if we ever want to get down to a fair, sensible, sane solution of our business affairs we want to consider these questions not in a small, selfish way, we want to treat this situation in a very broad gauged statemanslike manner and it seems to me the sooner we get down to that solution of this situation the sooner we will be able to finish the work for which we have assembled and get away from here.

Now what is an appropriation liability? As I view an appropriation liability it is a liability placed on the State of Pennsylvania the moment the Legislature enacts appropriation bills, which are signed by the Governor of the State. We are told by the best method that we have of reaching conclusions that we have, of this fiscal period, appropriation liabilities aggregating approximately $28,000,000. We are asked to appropriate at this session of the Legislature through the budget a sum aggregating $152,273,066. I am wrong when I say budget appropriations of that amount, but a total of that amount. To the budget we have to add, if we want to get at the real situation, $28,000,000 of appropriation liabilities as of June 1st, 1923, we have to add $17,500,000 to the budget suggestions, if we want to secure a sufficient amount of money to keep in operation our educational code. We want to add, if we want to meet our liabilities created by act of legislature $2,000,000, for township reward to the public roads. There is existing in the City of Philadelphia a judgment against the State of Pennsylvania, determined by the Supreme Court of the State of Pennsylvania, drawing interest at the rate of six per cent per annum, a verdict of $650,000. We have a tax on the Pymatuning Dam aggregating $10,200. We have the appropriation for poor laws codification amounting to $1800. We are asked to appropriate for a Giant Survey Service $35,000. We are asked to appropriate to the Board of Pharmacy $7500. We are asked to appropriate for the dredging of the Delaware River $100,000. We are asked to appropriate to higher education, as recommended by the Educational Council, in addition to that which is provided in the budget, $1,202,586. We are not asked, but we owe by judgment, reduced to judgment in the Counties of Montgomery and Chester for the Valley Forge Park approximately $500,000. That aggregates $152,273,066.22. That will be reduced by whatever amount of revenue is collected by the Auditor General's Department between now and the first of June, which will probably reach somewhere in the neighborhood of $4,000,000, or leave us a deficit at that time of $148,273,066.22. That is without regard to any apropriation to the Sesqui-Centennial Celebration in the City of Philadelphia, and I want to say to you very frankly that in my judgment unless the State of Pennsylvania comes to the rescue of the Sesqui-Centennial Exposition there will be no Sesqui-Centennial Exposition. The only way that the Sesqui-Centennial Exposition can be successfully financed, in my judgment, is by appropriations from the Government of the United States, by the State of Pennsylvania and by the City of Philadelphia, and if we adjourn without giving any encouragment or assistance to the Sesqui-Centennial, you will find that the Sesqui-Centennial will be a thing of the past. Are you willing to assume that responsibility? Are you willing to put out of business a world exposition for the sake of saving a little money to the taxpayers of the State of Pennsylvania? What is the use of talking about this small sum of money, twelve or fifteen million dollars to be raised? It is absolutely absurd, and there are no figures that will justify it. If you undertake to do that you will be in two years from now in exactly the same position that you are in to-day, with appropriation liabilities aggregating fully the amount which they aggregate at the present time, if not greater.

I am not taking issue with the present state administration, but I am in accord with not only meeting the appropriation liabilities which have been created in the past, but I am in favor of raising sufficient money to pay the appropriation we want to make at the present session of the legislature. It is a foregone conclusion that we must appropriate over $6,000,000 for the Delaware River Bridge. If we do not the Delaware River Bridge would have to suspend operation because that amount of money is necessary from the State of Pennsylvania before the money from the State of New Jersey can be made available and whether the $6,000,000 will be required in the next biennium or not, my judgment is that sound business principles dictate to us the importance and the necessity of raising the money, or at least providing a method for raising the money that we appropriate at this session.

We read in the papers this evening that it is proposed that the money necessary can be raised from the tax on gasoline and a tax of fifty per cent additional on automobile licenses. It would not begin to reach it, and I submit to you, Mr. President and gentlemen of the Senate, whether it is fair that one subject should carry all of the taxation that is necessary for the State of Pennsylvania. Who drive the automobiles? It is the little fellow, it is the farmer, it is the workman, it is the laborer, and are you going to put all the tax on them and allow the big interests to go scot free? Are you going to further penalize the small fellow and have it go over the State of Pennsylvania that the Legislature of Pennsylvania is willing to penalize the little fellows because they are afraid to put taxes where they honestly believe that a part of the burden of taxation ought to be placed? If you are I for one want to raise my voice in opposition to it. I for one want to be fair on the tax question. We might just as well call things by their right name. We know that there has been an expensive lobby at Harrisburg ever since this session opened for the purpose of talking against a manufacturer's tax, a tax on manufacturing corporations. We know that that lobby is supplemented by a lobby of the State Chamber of Commerce, an adjunct of the same concern that is being paid. We know that the newspapers are decrying a tax. Why? Because by some doubtful method the newspapers of the State of Pennsylvania have gotten into the class of manufacturing corporations in order to be exempted from state tax. Let me inquire what product do newspapers manufacture? Is it bunk and colored news dictated from the business office of the paper? I can imagine nothing else. I for one am perfectly willing to stand all of the abuse that the newspapers care to heap on me because of my willingness to do that which I honestly and conscientiously believe to be the right thing. I am perfectly willing to accept all the odium that may be placed upon me because I am willing to divide the tax between the big fellow and the little fellow. I am perfectly willing to pay my full share of the tax and it is not a personal matter with me, but I say to you that when you place the entire burden of this tax on the one million automobile operators of the State of Pennsylvania and then have an insufficient amount of tax to properly function your State government, you are acting on a wrong basis. Let us be big enough, broad enough, to do what we believe to be the right and proper thing. I am not out with an axe for any class of people, but I have the courage of my convictions to do that which I believe to be the big thing, the right thing and the proper thing, and properly distribute the tax on the taxpayers of the State of Pennsylvania, as they are able to bear them, and I arise to this question of personal privilege in order that my individual position may be made clear.

I hold a brief for nobody. I hold no brief for the administration, I hold no brief for any class of taxpayers, but I do hold a brief for my own conscience and willingness to do that which I believe to be the right and proper thing, and I hope that this Legisltature will awaken to a realization of their full duty and the importance of the subject they have before them. Now let us get through with our appropriations and our tax business and return to our homes, and by so doing, in my judgment, we will render the State of Pennsylvania the best service that we can render them as members of the Session of 1923.

On the question,

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 565, the bill just read, be recommitted to the Committee on Game and Fisheries, for the purpose of amendment.

Mr. PHIPPS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, this bill is one of a series of bills prepared by the legislative reorganization commission and I would like to state briefly that the difference in regard to the administration code is that the code leaves the Game and Fisheries Departments as they are now constituted, separate, and the legislative commission proposes to merge them. In defence of this I wish to state very briefly that it seemed to our Commission that if anything were to be consolidated that the Game and Fisheries Departments lend themselves very readily to this. In our reorganization we brought the one hundred and seven departments down to thirty eight and the Pinchot Commission has brought them down to fifteen and that is one of the points of difference, that the Pinchot code allows the Game and Fisheries Department to remain exactly as it is now. Now I would like to state that in three of the States, Oregon, Washington and California, that in California in 1870 they had combined the Game and Fisheries as we propose to do. In Illinois and Nebraska the Game and Fisheries is a part of the Department of Agriculture. In Michigan, Maryland, Massachussetts, New York and Ohio the Game and Fisheries is a part of the Department of Conservation. The only other thing I wish to say to the Senate is that I understand perfectly the esprit de corps amongst sportsmen of the state and they do not like to have any interference with their present admirable arrangement, especially in regard to their funds. I would like to state in explanation that those funds while they are to be merged into the general fund are preserved on the books and credited to the hunter's license, to the Game Department, and Fish Licenses to the Fish Department, and they will be given due credit and obtain money from the general fund.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 570, entitled:

An Act providing for the merging of moneys held in certain special funds in the State Treasury with moneys in the general fund providing for the use of all moneys in the general fund for the payment of appropriations and for the payment from the general fund of moneys appropriated and dedicated for special purposes

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

BILL OVER IN ORDER.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I ask that Senate Bill No. 570, on third reading, entitled:

An Act providing for the merging of moneys held in certain special funds in the State Treasury with moneys in the general fund providing for the use of all moneys in the general fund for the payment of appropriations and for the payment from the general fund of moneys appropriated and dedicated for special purposes.

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I object.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hears objection.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Philadelphia, what moneys appropriated for special funds would be merged into the general fund by this bill?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, there are 13 of the special funds, the Motor Fund, the State Insurance Fund, Banking Department Fund, State School Fund, Fish Propogation Fund, Bounty Fund, Manufacturing Fund, Game Protection and Propogation Fund, Engineers Fund, Dog Fund, Resident Fish License Fund, Bureau of Markets Fund, Non-resident Hunters License Fund. Do you want to know the amount of money involved?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, not necessarily, no, that is enough.

Mr. President, I think this would be a very dangerous and unwise proposition for the Legislature, without knowing more about it, to pass a bill of this sort, merging all of these moneys and special funds into the general fund at this time. We cannot tell where we will land. We cannot tell what funds might be depleted by this bill. I ask to have this bill go over in order that it may be investigated thoroughly. The Senator seems to obect and so I will ask the Senate to vote down this bill at this time.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I would like to state on behalf of this bill that I hold in my hand that the balance in all of the funds as of February 23rd, 1923, these special funds amounted on that date to $11,026,240.35, less the general fund, which would be $307,789.40, or $10,718,450.85.

This money is what I call being put on the top shelf of the Treasury and no one can get at it. The bill provides for the merging of these special funds into the general fund to make them available for appropriations.

If the Senator has not read the bill, I am perfectly willing to have it go over until to-morrow morning.

The PRESIDENT. The objection is withdrawn.

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I move that the question together with the further consideraton of the bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL No. 365.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, April 20, 1923.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Ladies and Gentlemen: I return herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 365, entitled "An Act to amend section one of the act approved the fifteenth day of March, one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws twenty), entitled 'An Act regulating in criminal trials the cross-examination of a defendant when testifying in his own behalf by prohibiting the introduction as evidence of certain testimony or records'."

Prior to the passage of the Act of March 15, 1911, it was permitted, whenever a person accused of any crime went upon the stand as a witness in his own behalf, not only to produce the record of his conviction of any previous crime as a matter of course, but also to ask him questions, or afterward produce witnesses, to show that he had been accused or convicted of some crime or crimes other than the one against which he was at the time obliged to defend. The concensus of enlightened thought finally condemned it as unfair and contrary to justice that an accused person should be obliged to defend himself before the minds of the jury from any evidence except that which bore directly and properly upon the crime against which he is putting up a defense.

Consequently the Act of March 15, 1911 which this Bill proposes to amend, was passed in order that no person accused of a crime might be asked any question or have any other witnesses give evidence concerning a previous accusation or conviction of crime unless he shall have attempted to establish by witnesses his own good reputation or character, or has gone on the stand to give evidence tending to prove such good character or reputation, or unless testifies at his trial against a co-defendant charged with the same offense.

Last year, in the case of Commonwealth vs. Doe, 79 Pa. Super. Ct. 162, it was held that if the defendant went upon the stand at all in his own behalf, no matter whether the evidence was in support of his own character and reputation or not, the record of any previous conviction might be presented for the purpose of inpeaching his credibility as a witness.

This decision made it unsafe for a witness with a previous criminal record to go upon the stand on his own behalf, House Bill No. 365 is intended to reverse the decision of the Superior Court and so give a person accused of law breaking the opportunity to become a witness on his own behalf without having the attention of the jury called to any previous conviction of crime by the placing of the record of such conviction in evidence.

I am unwilling to sign a measure which throws additional protection around those accused of law breaking beyond that already supplied by the Act of 1911, which as it stands, certainly goes far enough in that direction. Professor Wigmore comments on our Act of 1911 as follows:

"This State (Penna.) has now permitted the following vicious piece of legislation to slip in and thus tenderly to make it easier for astute defenders of villains to juggle their clients out of legal danger."

Wigmore on Evidence. Vol. 5, D. 2276.

If Wigmore could call the present law a "vicious piece of legislation", would it not be improper to strengthen that Act still further?

There are other material objections to this amendment. I refer, for example to the law which makes a taking of human life in an attempt to commit arson, rape, robbery or burglary first degree murder, even when the immediate circumstances might by themselves excuse the killing. If a person were convicted of one of those crimes and afterward tried for murder because of a death caused by him in connection with the same felony, he should not have even the remote chance of being protected from having the fact of the first crime proven.

It is unsafe to change rules of evidence by law without the deepest consideration of what the effect might be in the way of hampering justice or preventing the speedy and full trial of all cases.

A person accused of crime should not be protected any more tenderly as to his credibility as a witness when he chooses to take the stand than other citizens who are obliged by subpoena to act as witnesses. I agree with Wigmore where, in discussing the impeachment of an accused person's credibility when he acts as a witness on his own behalf, he says:

> " * * * That, as the defendant has voluntarily chosen to offer his testimony, it is not unfair to require him to submit to the incidental tests of testimony ordinarily applied, and that any other rule would practically give immunity to defendants to offer false testimony to the jury."

Wigmore on Evidence. Vol. 2, Sec. 889

For these reasons the Bill is not approved.

GIFFORD PINCHOT.

And the question being,

Shall the bill become a law, the objections of His Excellency the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

A motion was made by Mr. Goehring and seconded by Mr. Joseph C. Marcus,

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. McBRIDE,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 868, entitled:

An Act allowing and regulating boxing sparring and wrestling matches and exhibitions establishing a State Athletic Commission making an appropriation therefor and appropriating taxes received for monument and memorial purposes and prescribing penalties

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. JOSEPH C. MARCUS. Concerning the bill which we are now to vote on, there appeared on each and every desk in this House a circular in which it sort of ridicules this bill. In view of the fact that the sponsor of this bill has contracted a heavy cold, making it impossible for him to carry his voice, I desire to enlighten the members of this House in my modest way as to the contents of this bill. It appears that pugilism has suffered as all other professions, and this bill elevates the profession, placing many safeguards around it, and not only does it maintain itself but it places the youth of the country under such favorable conditions that they may develop into fine specimens of manhood and womanhood. It restricts young men, under the age of 16, from participating in or becoming spectators of or amateur fights, and increases the age up to 18 years. It not only surrounds every particular fight with the necessary safeguards as to seeing that the participants are in excellent physical condition, and it not only provides that the place in which the fight is to be conducted must receive the necessary proper ventilation, but provides proper buildings, and that no license can be granted until the principals giving this exhibition have had at least three months of some standing. But it provides for salaries, and then further stipulates a further percentage of the gross receipts to go to the State Treasury; the monies to be used for monuments dedicated to heroes who served in the World War. I believe legislation of this kind is progressive, wholesome, and productive of the best things for all of us. I hope that those of you who have been apprehensive as to the real merits of this bill, will analyze it more thoroughly and give it your full consideration.

Mr. LORENZO D. THOMAS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Marcus.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Marcus permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MARCUS. Yes, Sir.

Mr. THOMAS. Will you please explain to the members of this House why the opposition to this bill comes so strongly from the sports writers of the state?

Mr. MARCUS. I have yet to see any opposition from the sports writers of this state, but I have seen many letters and recommendations asking for the passage of this bill.

Mr. LORENZO THOMAS. I desire to state that everyone of the daily newspapers and the Sunday newspapers in Luzerne and Lackawanna counties have sent to the members from those particular counties today, personal telegrams telling us not to support this bill, I would like to have that word of mine verified, on account of the destruction of the telegram, by any members from that part of the state.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I have been requested by sport writers of the various newspapers of Luzerne county to cast my vote against this bill. They are opposed to it because they think it will be a very expensive proposition for the state; they think that the income will be very much less than the expenditures for the commission which will be appointed, with all the various clerks, stationery, and other expenses in connection therewith. They think that it will establish in the State a fight trust, so to speak, which will preclude the possibility of boxing exhibitions such as are given now by the American Legion in the various municipalities of the state. Therefore, they think the bill should not be passed and they have asked me, as they asked my colleague, Mr. Thomas—requested all of us, I understand—to vote against the bill.

Mr. DAVID FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, A question has been asked in regard to the sports writers of Luzerne and Lackawanna counties, and I wish to say that I have not seen any statements in any of the papers in Lackawanna county in regard to this bill. Personally, I am for the bill for a good many reasons. Naturally sport writers may take exception to the bill due to the fact that in many cities the decisions are now placed in the hands of newspaper sport editors. I feel that it is often true that when a boy comes from some other city to fight with home talent, and it is only natural, the home papers give more credit to the boy at home. I know that happens in Philadelphia because we have never been able to win a fight there. I feel that this is only just that it should be placed in the hands of a referee. It is a success in many of the other states, and while I do not know much about the boxing game, I can honestly state that I have seen no Scranton papers that have come out against this bill.

Mr. LORENZO D. THOMAS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I was just hoping that we would get the real solution of the question by the sponsor of the bill, or by friends of the measure. Now we know there is indeed a great deal of merit in a thing such as this under state regulation, and we know, those of us who have had experience with boxing in the past under regulation, that boxing should come under restrictive influence, and we know that it will be better if it is put in the shape that this bill is put in. Consequently, I, myself, am in favor of the bill as it is, but I wanted the House to have an explanation as to why the sporting editors are against it.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House there was a time when probably I should have voted against a bill of this kind because I confess my ignorance on the subject of boxing was exceedingly great. But during the World War I had the oppoprtunity to observe the effect of boxing upon the morale and lives of the young men with the American Expeditionary Forces, and I want to say that it seems to me boxing is not only a legitimate exercise, but it is one of those exercises that can best be conducted under some sort of supervision, and since this bill provides a sensible supervision for boxing, thereby giving the advantage of the sport to the young men of the state, I think this bill should be supported. Personally, I shall vote "aye".

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. Guerin.

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 61, entitled:

An Act to amend sections one and two of the act approved the eighth day of June, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three, (P. L. 344), entitled "An act relating to husband and wife, enlarging her capacity to acquire and dispose of property, to sue and be sued, and to make a last will, and enabling them to sue and to testify against each other in certain cases;" authorizing a married women to mortgage her real property without the joinder of her husband.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am simply calling your attention to the bill which has been called up at this time. This bill on numerous occasions has been before the House, and a number of members have talked against it, and on each occasion it has been put on the postponed calendar. This bill provides that either the husband or the wife may sign a mortgage without the consent of either her or him. Now, we passed a bill in this House sometime ago which was a proper bill. It provided that neither the husband nor the wife should sign a mortgage without the other joining in that mortgage. That for their proper protection was right, but to sign a mortgage without the husband's consent, and especially at this time when, as we know, and especially the members of the bar, and the lawyers of this House know, that there are hundreds of instances at the present time where the husband for the purpose of protecting their property for their families against their creditors, and I mean that where people are engaged in a hazardous undertaking where someone is liable to sue them for damages, and perhaps recover damages against them and yet they might not be guilty of neglect is not right. I say in many instances at this time the wives are holding the title to the properties under those conditions, and for those wives at the present time without the consent of the husband to sign a mortgage is entirely wrong. I know a great many people will say that husbands for the purpose of defeating their creditors have no right to do it, but they have a right to do it. A man has the right to transfer his property to his wife for the protection of his family, and every man who enters into an agreement or contract with that man knows that that property is in wife's name, therefore, there is no deceit, nobody is deceived nobody is fooled. He knows when he enters into the contract that property is in his wife's name, and is her property to all intents and purposes. Therefore, nobody is deceived, and that argument in favor of this bill does not stand ground, as I say at this time with the conditions as they are. The wife should not be permitted to enter into a mortgage without her husband's joining.

Mr. GUERIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I desire to explain to you why this bill has been postponed for five weeks. Another bill was referred to of a somewhat similar character that passed the House, and it was considered by the Judiciary General Committee of the Senate, and I have been informed that a vote was passed not to report it out. I wanted five weeks to give the committee an opportunity, if they desired, to report that bill out and act upon it in the Senate. In response to the argument made by the former speaker, I want to appeal to you, ladies and gentlemen of the House if you think that is a valid argument, if it is moral, or even a legal thing for a man to do, to transfer his property in order that he cannot be held responsible for some act of his, or his employes; whether you consider that a good reason why you should not vote for this bill. Personally, I don't. I want to say this that if a man is engaged in a hazardous business, with the opportunities he has today of insurance with a very small amount of money, he can insure against that, and in that way save the property that might otherwise be taken on judgment. An argument was also advanced that if the property of a husband was in the wife's name that a wife could mortgage it without the consent of the husband and thus waste his money. I want to say to you that a wife is in that same position today; that if she gives a judgment note to anybody, a creditor or anybody else, or if she contracts a bill or a debt at the present time, that debt can be collected upon a judgment note. I want to show you also another inconsistency, and we will presume that a member of this House has a daughter, and in one instance he would leave her say $10,000, and in one instance that $10,000 was in real estate and she afterwards married a man who was worthless, and she found it necessary to raise some money, under the present act she could not mortgage her property, but on the other hand if the same amount of money was given to her in personal estate, such as mortgages, or money, she could use that money. Now, don't you think it is an inconsistency if you allow her in one instance, if the estate happens to be personal, that a woman can use it, and if it happens to be real estate she cannot use it. That certainly is an inconsistency, ladies and gentlemen, and for that reason, and for reasons that I cited on my former appearance on the floor of this House, I would ask your support of the bill.

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk return the same to the Senate with the information that the House has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. Steedle.

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1078, entitled:

An Act to amend section twelve of the act approved the third day of June, one thousand nine hundred and eleven, (P. L. 639), entitled "An Act relating to the right to practice medicine and surgery in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; and providing a Bureau of Medical Education and Licensure as a bureau of the Department of Public Instruction; and means and methods whereby the right to practice medicine and surgery and any of its minor branches may be obtained, and exemptions therefrom; and providing for an appropriation to carry out the provisions of said act; and have been suspended or revoked and for the reinstatement said bureau; and providing penalties for violation thereof, providing for revocation or suspension of licenses given by and repealing all acts or parts of acts inconsistent thereof licenses in certain cases.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it is possible that a little explanation may be necessary on this bill. This bill is only a remedial agent. During the tenure of office of Attorney General Alter he decided that the medical board of licensure could not reinstate an applicant who had once had his license revoked to practice medicine and surgery in Pennsylvania. I had an experience, as well as one of the members of this House, a member of the bar of Allegheny county, with a young man, whom we were vitally interested in, through some misfortune or other had his license revoked. He was denied the right to practice because of the fact that the attorney general had decreed that they were without authority to reinstate the applicant who was so unfortunate. I decided that there certainly should be some elasticity in the power of the board, they had the right of revocation, they certainly should have the power to reinstate. Therefore, I was moved by the case of this young man in these unfortunate circumstances of having his license revoked, and I understand throughout the State of Pennsylvania to day there are many similar cases. This condition was due to the decision of Attorney General Alter, therefore, I hope every member of this House will vote for this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken as follows, viz:

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 282, entitled:

An Act to amend section one of an act approved the tenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (Pamphlet Laws four hundred and twenty-three) entitled "An act providing for the nomination and election of judges of courts of record and repealing certain acts"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Monroe, Mr. Rhodes, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. RHODES. Yes sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker, will the sponsor of the bill kindly explain its purpose?

Mr. RHODES. The purpose of the bill is to permit when two or more persons are to be candidates for the superior court bench that you can only vote for one less than the total number to be elected. As a matter of fact it provides for a minority representation on the superior court bench.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Rhodes, is there any particular reason why there should be a minority representation upon the superior court as against the reason why there should be such representation on the supreme court; is there any good reason for either?

Mr. RHODES. In my opinion there is good reason why there should be minority representation in all courts.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I desire only to call your attention to the fact that the purpose of this bill is to assure the minority party in Pennsylvania representation upon the superior court. Now, I, of course, find no fault with the minority party, and I certainly find no fault with the lawyers of the minority party and in fact, I have no occasion to find any fault with any of the judges of the minority party, but it has occured to me that there should be no reason why the fact that a man belongs to the minority party should assure him of a place upon the superior court. There is neither virtue nor fault in being a member of either one of the political parties, either the majority or the minority party, so as to commend him to a position upon the superior court, and with that fact in mind I shall vote against this bill.

Mr. RHODES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it is my personal opinion that the appellate courts should have upon them the men who will give the courts breadth of thought in the decisions that come before them, on questions that they are to decide. We readily recognize the proposition that if a court is composed of men who have been trained along one line of political thought, or who have one line of economic thought, that they therefore do not comprehend the importance of the problems that come before them for decision. If a court is composed entirely of republicans in my opinion it is to a certain degree narrow. It cannot comprehend the economic and the political and social aspect of the problems that confront them as well as a court can that is composed of men who have been brought up along different line of thought, economical, political and social. It seems to me that the courts in rendering their decisions certainly should have in those decisions something more than merely legal technicality. They represent in their decision the principal thought of the age, whether it be upon morals, politics, or sociology. Therefore, I think that a court is broader, that it can do more justice, if it is composed of men of various political faith, men who have been brought up along different lines, social, political and economical lines. I don't believe any member of the supreme court or the superior court, regardless of their political faith, would tend to deviate from the paths of justice, but I do feel that a more comprehensive court would be in existence, if we put in men of various political faiths, in order to reflect into their decisions the light and the spirit of the age.

Mr. DILSHEIMER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, we as the laymen, who are in the majority in this House, must voice our idea with reference to this bill. I want to say that the public in general, who are the majority, laymen of this Commonwealth, when they vote upon judges they don't ask whether this man belongs to the minority or to the majority party. I believe that the public knows very well when they vote for candidates who is the best man, whether he belongs to the minority or the majority party. Therefore, I don't see any reason we should make a distinction and give the minority any more rights than we do the majority. Let the public decide the question when it comes to the election of judges. I believe for that reason this bill should be voted down.

On the question recurring.

Shall the bill pass finally?

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. JOSEPH C. MARCUS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Price, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. PRICE. Mr. Speaker, yes sir.

Mr. JOSEPH C. MARCUS. I believe from the contents of this bill that its purpose is to abolish the jury commissioners of Allegheny county, is that correct?

Mr. PRICE. That is correct.

Mr. JOSEPH C. MARCUS. And in substitution therefore there is to be a board of three common pleas judges, and the title of jury clerk shall be given to one and he shall receive a salary of $7500 a year?

Mr. PRICE. That is not correct. It provides for a board of four judges of the common pleas court, one of whom shall be the president judge, and the president judge appoints a jury clerk at a salary of $7500.00 a year.

Mr. JOSEPH C. MARCUS. What salary does the jury commissioner receive at the present time?

Mr. PRICE. At the prsent time he receives a salary of $1200.00 a year; there are two jury commissioners, each receiving $1200.00 a year.

Mr. JOSEPH C. MARCUS. The two jury commissioners receive $2400.00 and the jury clerk will receive, under the provisions of this bill, a salary of $7500.00.

Mr. PRICE. That is correct.

Mr. JOSEPH C. MARCUS. How many assistants will the jury clerk be allowed?

Mr. PRICE. That is not definitely set forth, it will be determined by the duties of the office, but I do not think any more than the present jury commissioners are allowed.

Mr. JOSEPH C. MARCUS. Mr. Speaker, I desired, before this bill reached this place on the calendar, to avoid any discussion of the bill by asking the gentleman from Allegheny if he would not recommit this bill to the Judiciary General Committee for the purpose of a public hearing by reason of the fact that I have received a number of letters asking to be heard, but that courtesy was denied. Under the circumstances, Mr. Speaker, I believe there is no necessity for the abolishment of the jury commissioners. I do not know of any serious complaint that has been directed against them from any particular source. The gentleman under interrogation sets forth a very concrete example. The two jury commissioners in Allegheny at the present time receive $2,400.00, yet this jury clerk, under the jurisdiction of a board consisting of four common pleas judges, would receive a salary of $7500.00 a year. It provides for a great many assistants and because the number is not mentioned and the salary is not mentioned, I believe under the circumstances that the present law has been most satisfactory and I would ask you members to vote this bill down.

Mr. PRICE. Mr. Speaker, in reply to the argument of Mr. Marcus, I would like to trace for you a little of the history of this act and the history of the desire for jury reformation in Allegheny county. As I said before, this act creates a board of four judges, one of whom shall be the president judge of the common pleas court, and with him are three other judges whom he appoints to serve as members of the Board for the selection of jurors from year to year. This board of four judges appoints this jury clerk who is the administrative officer in charge of the work of the Board. The purpose of the act is to secure a better and more impartial system for the selection of jurors. It is true that the jury clerk under this act would receive a salary of $7500.00, but when this bill was drawn by the members of the Allegheny County Bar Association, it was drawn with the idea of attracting to this office a man of such standing that the duties of this important office could be carried out, and well carried out. It was in the minds of the men in back of this bill that they needed a man who in a private occupation could earn a salary of $7500.00 a year. They wanted the best man they could get for the position, and the appointment of a man will be in the hands of the president judge of the Common Pleas Court. Now what are the duties of this jury clerk under this act? He is the administsative officer of the board. He is the man in charge of the investigation of jurors to determine their fitness. He has charge of all the records of this office, all reports requiring an investigation, and a number of jurors will come before him for investigation, and he will be in charge of that. It is a very important office, and the Bar Association well knows, and it was with that idea in mind that the provision was incorporated in the bill calling for the type of man that the Bar Association wants. Now then, as to the provisions of the bill regarding the selection of jurors; the bill provides that the assessors and the board of county commissioners shall furnish the board of judges and the jury clerk with a list of the taxables, a certified list of the taxables of the county, and from that list the jurors shall be drawn and from no place else; a great improvement over our present system. The jury roll is made up ninety days before the first term in the common pleas court from this list of taxables by the board of judges and the jury clerk, after they have investigated the fitness of the men whom they desire to place on the roll. A thorough investigation is called for by the Act. There must be on the jury roll, or in the jury wheel, at least five names for every juror required for service in the county during the current year, and at the end of each year those names, or the names of those men who have not served as jurors are automatically carried over until the next year. Certain qualifications are laid down for jurors in this Act.

There is no such thing under the present system. What are these qualifications? First, the juror must be a citizen of the United States and a taxable resident of the county between the age of 21 and 70. He must bear a good reputation for honesty. He must read, write and understand the English language. He must have no physical disability which would interfere with his duties as a juror, and he must be one who within three years preceding his selection has not served on the jury in that county. Under the present system, men are finding that they are put in the jury wheel year after year in Allegheny county and the same men are serving year after year. There are certain exemptions provided for in this Act, such as doctors, lawyers and professional men who cannot serve, and certain excuses are provided for them under the act. If a man by reason of illness or injury cannot serve, if a man by reason of his business or the business interests of his employer cannot serve at a particular time, and lastly the case of a mother of a small child or children. In the first two cases that is in the case of personal disability or injury, or in the case of business reasons, a man may be excused from jury service at a particular time, but he is not excused altogether. His name is postponed for service at a later date in the same year or in the following year. Under the present system, by reason of political pull, the good jurors in Allegheny county never do serve, but in this way men will have to serve on the jury. They may have their time of service postponed, but it cannot be put off altogether. The drawing of names for the jury wheel is provided for, to take place in open court, and the custody of the wheel is provided for under strict regulations in charge of the judges and this jury clerk. It is also provided in the bill that as soon as the names of the jurors are put in the wheel notices must be sent to them by registered mail notifying them that their names are in the wheel and that they may be called for service in that particular year, and if they do not desire to serve at a particular time, then they have the right to come to the jury clerk and to that board of judges in charge of the selection of jurors and give the reasons why they do not desire to serve at that particular time and their time of service can be postponed, but they are not excused altogether. Certain penalties are provided for any infraction of the regulations laid down in this act and for any offense which deals with the offering of or promising to give money to any person in return for having them go in the jury wheel or putting them in the jury wheel or having them serve as jurors, and certain penalties are contained in the act against one who solicits any money for service as a juror. Now, I did oppose any motion this evening, and said I would oppose any motion to have this bill recommitted to the Judiciary General Committee. I want to say that I did so without any feeling of discourtesy to Mr. Marcus, for whom I have the very highest regard. I did it without any feeling that the bill would not be treated fairly in the Judiciary Committee, because I know it would be, but I do it from motives that appeal to me as absolutely sound. In the first place, the bill has been on the calendar now for thirteen days, and at any previous time, before I nursed it up to final passage, I would gladly have given my consent, but when the bill arrived on the third reading calendar, I thought it was too late. Not only that, but I call to your attention the fact that we are geting along late in the session, and if this bill were referred back to Judiciary General Committee, it could not get out on the floor for a period of two or three weeks, and if there is any chance of the Legislature adjourning some time between May 15th and 30th, there would be no chance of getting the bill through the Senate, and I feel absolutely that the bill would be jeopardized if referred back to the Judiciary General Committee. Not only that, but our House calendar is very congested, and I desired to get this matter out of the way on the calendar as promptly as possible. I want to call to your attention the fact that the Senate calendar and the Senate committees are not tied up as we are here. The calendar is not congested and the committees are not burdened as ours are, and I say to Mr. Marcus and to the men he is representing here that if they have any objection to this bill, that I will offer them any assistance and will have the members of the Bar Association and the friends of this bill render any assistance in their power to have a hearing in the Senate. Finally, gentlemen, I do not say that all the politicians in Allegheny County are for this bill, but most of the politicians desire to see a better administration of justice. Every ambulance chaser and every attorney and every jury-fixing attorney in Allegheny County is not for the bill, but I do say that the great majority of the members of the bar who desire a fair administration of justice are for it. I hold in my hand here a letter from George Alter, one of the leaders of our bar, from Thomas Patterson, generally represented as the leader of the Allegheny County Bar, Lee C. Beatty, recognized as an expert on municipal and constitutional law, Richard Martin, city solicitor in the cabinet of Mayor William A. Magee, William Dalzell, president of the Allegheny County Bar Association, and Frank McGirr, president of the State association, William S. Moorehead, one of the few democrats in Allegheny County appointed by the federal commission at Washington on the Tax Simplification Board. All of these men endorse the bill and are ready to stand back of the constitutionality of it if attacked. They indorse the need for it. The Pittsburgh Sun and the Pittsburgh Post, the Democratic newspaper of Pittsburgh, are for the bill heart and soul, and I say to you, all of these men desire its passage. I am for it heart and soul, and I hope you will vote for it.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Price, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. PRICE. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. STEEDLE. I would like to ask the gentleman from Allegheny County whether the practice of picking jurors is any different in Allegheny County than it is in Philadelphia or Juniata or any other county of the State?

Mr. PRICE. I am glad you called that to my attention. The practice in Allegheny County is the general system used for most of the counties of this State with the exception of Philadelphia County. Philadelphia for years has had a system from which this act has been modeled very closely.

They have, as I understand it, a board for the selection of jurors, consisting of judges, and this act is modeled after that system. The rest of the State has the system that Allegheny County has, and while it may work well in the country districts, I want to say to you gentlemen that the experience of our Bar Association is that it does not work well in the city of Pittsburgh with its varied population.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, It seems unfortunate that poor Allegheny County should be besmirched and should be looked down upon as one of the most corrupt counties in the Commonwealth. Unfortunately, time after time, when a bill is introduced by somebody and he has fear that it may possibly go by the wayside, he takes all the good out of the nut for the other counties, but leaves the empty shell for Allegheny. I have the highest regard for my friend and colleague, Mr. Price. I am a lawyer, but I am directing my remarks in defense of my county. There seems to be a question of dispute as to whether this is really the sentiment voiced by the majority of the Bar Association of Allegheny County. I see no reason why we should throw upon the judges more power and more labor than they are now called upon to do. In the session of 1911, the school code took away from the people the right to elect their own school directors, and they turned that over to the judiciary. Now, here comes along another bill takes away again from the people of the County of Allegheny the right to select by voice or choice their own jury commissioners, and it places that in the hands of the judges. I feel that it will not be very long until every member of the Legislature will be appointed by a court of justice, and I think the time is right now for us to put our feet down and call a halt. I hold no brief for any judge, but I personally have heard them admit that they were not in accord with the present system of having to select the school board, that they were not particularly stuck on that job. Here we are going to shove something more on them and compel them to pick a jury commissioner. I am sure that the two men on the board now are two men of good reputation in the community from which they come, and I see no reason why you should take Allegheny County and single it out. If this is such good legislation, why are you picking out Allegheny County and why do you not include the whole State, with the exception of the State of Philadelphia? I hope, gentlemen, you will vote this bill down.

Mr. STONER. Mr. Speaker, I wish to say to you that I am for this bill. I have been practicing law in Allegheny County for something like twenty-four years, and I believe there is a crying need for a bill of this kind. There is nobody but will admit that Allegheny County is the salt of the earth, but in this matter of jury selection there isn't any doubt but what the salt has lost some of its savour. Neither has anybody said a word against the present jury commissioners. One of them happens to be a client of mine, and a mighty fine fellow he is too. But nevertheless, I do know, and I think most people from Allegheny County know that for a long period of time certain lawyers have been practically filling the jury box by submitting to the jury commissioners lists of men to be called on the jury. The result of that is perfectly apparent; it simply means that when those particular lawyers try cases in court, there will be some of these suggested men on the jury and of course, these men will, in every instance, favor the lawyers who have put them there, because they are put in the jury wheel for such purpose. It needs no argument to suggest that such a thing is absolutely subversive of justice, and it is rather a strange thing that any one knowing that at any time his own affairs or the affairs of his city or county or State may come before a jury, a strange thing that anyone would oppose any step in the direction of improving a system which is confessedly wrong. The present system has proven itself obsolete. The newspapers of Pittsburgh have been writing us for weeks and months on this very question of jury selection, and they have been demanding that the Bar Association suggest or advise some better way of jury selection. This bill is the answer to that demand, and I say to you that this is a meritorious bill which will serve the interests of justice and we ask you to vote for it.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. WEAVER. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 736, on third reading, entitled:

An Act authorizing the State Highway Commissioner to use funds appropriated for State-aid highway purposes by the Act of March tenth, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one, entitled "An Act making an appropriation to the State Highway Department for the construction of permanent State Highways; for the payment of the Commonwealth's share in the expenses of constructing State-aid highways; for the maintenance and repair of State Highways within the limits of boroughs; for the maintenance and repair of State-aid highways; for the payment of rewards due townships of the second class; for the payment of damages to property caused or occasioned in connection with the work of the State Highway Department"; for the construction or reconstruction of State highways, and to enter certain charges against the State-aid highway accounts of those counties in which State Road Bond Fund money has been used to pay State-aid highway contracts, so as to reimburse accounts available heretofore for highway purposes which were used for State-aid highway purposes and making an appropriation thereof.

be recommitted to the committee on Appropriations.

Mr. JONES. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. JONES. Mr. President, I do not have any serious objection to this bill going back to the Committee on Appropriations. I think possibly it has to do with appropriations or our Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations thinks it has something to do in connection with this committee, and therefore I will not object to its being recommitted. I do not think they will find anything in the bill that needs to be considered.

And the question recurring,

Wil the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of Senate Bill No. 570, on third reading postponed for the present, entitled:

An Act providing for the merging of moneys held in certain special funds in the State Treasury with moneys in the general fund providing for the use of all moneys in the general fund for the payment of appropriations and for the payment from the general fund of moneys appropriated and dedicated for special purposes

Mr. PHIPPS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 570, entitled:

An Act probiding for the merging of moneys held in certain special funds in the State Treasury with moneys in the general fund providing for the use of all moneys in the general fund for the payment of appropriations and for the payment from the general fund of moneys appropriated and dedicated for special purposes

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I merely wish the rest of the Senate to know that at the close of business yesterday in the State Treasury there were $18,649,000, of which $125,000, belonged to the general fund and the $18,524,000 in the special funds not available for general uses. I wish to file a very able paper by Mr. William J. McCaig, as part of my remarks:

SPECIAL FUNDS.

We, as members of the General Assembly, should begin to realize that a policy which has been adopted within the last few years should be either halted or entirely discontinued. I refer to the creating of special funds by the Legislature. This practice is gaining such headway that unless it is stopped, the time will rapidly approach when the power of the Assembly to make appropriations will be very much limited.

When I speak of the power to make appropriations being limited, I of course do not mean that the Legislature would find itself helpless to change the system, because the right given to the Legislature to make appropriations can only be taken away from it by the Constitution and not by prior Legislatures thru the setting up of special funds. What I do mean is that the special fund policy will become so thoroughly engrafted into the Pennsylvania system, and so great a part of the State's revenues tied up in these funds, that the General Assembly becomes practically powerless in the spending of the State's revenues.

If you were to examine the books of the State Treasurer, you would find that there are now twenty-five funds into which the income of the Commonwealth is distributed. Of these twenty-five funds thirteen are known as revenue funds, and he other twelve are known as non-revenue funds, such as the sinking fund, the reserve funds for school employes, federal aid funds, et cetera. The thirteen revenue funds are the ones in which we, as Members of the General Assembly, should be likely interested. I am not unmindful of the fact that the moneys paid into some of these funds might never have become revenues of the Commonwealth if they had not been dedicated to specific purposes.

There is, however, in my mind a question whether we should continue to secure revenues only if we agree to dedicate the revenue to a particular purpose to suit certain interests.

The general fund is the only one from which appropriations are now specifically made by the General Assembly. According to the most recent figures which have been given by Auditor General Lewis in his interesting pamphlet, only 82 per centum, or $79,900,000 of all the revenues collected by him during the last eighteen months went into the General fund. The remaining 18 per centum, or $18,100,000, went into the twelve other special funds. If the revenues for the remaining six months of two full years are approximately this large, about $24,000,000 will have been diverted to these funds during the last two years, over the expenditures of which the General Assembly has had no control except by the original act which made the dedication. Do not misunderstand me; I do not wish to convey the thought that the General Assembly has no control over these funds, but simply that it fails to exercise any control, and the longer we hesitate to exercise this control, the harder it will be to ultimately secure it.

The creation of a special fund is nothing more than a special privilege for certain classes of work. Under our present system it means a permanent authorization to expend, or in other words a continuing appropriation. The first special fund was created in 1911, and is known as the State School Fund, and each succeeding Legislature has added one or more funds to the list, so that now we have, as I said before, twenty-five special funds.

Under the present system of Government, it may not be practical, and it may be almost impossible to prevent the creation of any special funds. Certain of those funds, such as the Sinking Fund, and others, which hold moneys appropriated by the United States Government, must be retained, but I am of the belief that the time has arrived when we should halt the creation of any more of these funds, unless there is an absolute necessity, and that we should also place ourselves upon record to secure a better control over the expenditures of the present funds, or at least place the moneys therein in such a position that they may be used by the Commonwealth in a better manner. If we continue to cut down the amounts available for appropriation purposes in the way we have been doing in the past, there will eventually be very little left for appropriation purposes, and the financial condition of the Commonwealth will simply become worse from year to year.

Under our frame of government, it is for the General Assembly to say how much and for what purposes the moneys in the treasury of the Commonwealth shall be expended, and this is a power which the Legislature can neither give away nor surrender.

The question of abolishing any one or all of the funds about which I have been speaking, is a matter entirely for the Legislature to decide, but if we should hesitate to go so far; (now that the situation has been brought about and certain revenues received with the understanding that they should be dedicated to particular purposes), it might be well to leave the special funds which we now have and try to prevent the creation of more in the future, but if we intend to do this, it seems to me that the Commission for the Reorganization of the State Government has made a very good suggeston when it proposes that the money in certain of these funds shall be made liquid. At various times the Commonwealth, as you all know, has not been able to meet its bills promptly, and those to whom moneys were due have been obliged to go out and borrow money at the rate of six per centum to meet current bills, and this practice has been going on while millions of dollars of actual cash have been lying idle in the State Treasury in these special funds. It has been brought to the attention of the Reorganization Commission that moneys were borrowed from banks to pay current bills, when the same banks had, at the same time, funds of the Commonwealth on deposit and unused. Under the system proposed by the Reorganization Commission, it would not be necessary to abolish any of these funds, but simply pay all of the moneys therein into the general fund, and keep a record of the amount in the general fund which could be applied to the purposes for which the special fund was created.

It seems to me, ladies and gentlemen, that this is a matter which should receive the earnest consideration of every member of the General Assembly, and especially at this time when we are trying to wipe from the books of the fiscal officers an over-appropriation, and at the same time continue the functions of government without doing grievous harm to anyone.

And the question, recurring.

Shall the bill pass finally?

The Chaplain, Rev. W. B. Cox, offered the following prayer:

Our Heavenly Father, we thank Thee this morning for life and all its blessings; for the degree of health and strength of body and of mind which we enjoy; for all the blessings, social, temporal and spiritual. And whilst we are in the enjoyment of these blessings, we are mindful of those of our number whose hearts are saddened because of the shadows of death that have crossed their thresholds. Others are suffering the pain of affliction; and we pray this morning that Thou wouldst comfort such as are in sorrow, heal such as are sick, guide us to Thy praise, help us to love and serve Thee, and eventually bring us to Thyself through Christ. Amen.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?
It was agreed to.
On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. KUNKLE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to say a word with reference to this bill which is now up for final passage. My attention was called sometime ago to the law on this particular by a member of the Westmoreland County bar, and in response to his direction I went to the legislative drafting department to have a bill framed so as to protect persons purchasing and using automobiles, and I found that the Department had drafted a bill and that this bill meets the occasion. It requires a certificate of title to be issued and that certificate to show whether it is an absolute title in the owner and whether there are liens against that property.

In other words, it puts the trade of dealing in automoblies in the same position practically as the buying and selling of real estate. The title should be recorded, and recently in the Westmoreland County court we foud a case where a man purchased an automobile from a dealer and paid for it in full. Later on the lessee of that machine replevined the machine and took the machine from him. This act is so drawn as to provide a remedy for just such cases as this, in order to protect owners dealers and individuals purchasing automobiles, and it is very important to my mind that this act should pass for the protection of individuals. There isn't any question in my mind but what it is absolutely necessary. We find automobiles being transferred and at the present time there is no protection, a man cannot protect himself from a lease or an outstanding lien against the property, and as long as our law is as it is here, we ought to have such a law passed as this one, and I therefore ask the members to vote for this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas were taken and were as follows, viz:

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LUDLOW. Mr. Speaker, I rise to inquire whether there is any member of the House who can give us some definite information about this bill and the effect it would have upon the State's finances this year and two years hence. Probably there is somebody here who can answer that inquiry.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in answer to the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Ludlow, I would say that while this bill at present does not carry a very large appropriation, which appropriation of $25,000 is for the sole purpose of starting the organization of the so-called old age pension fund for Pennsylvania. It only carries with it an appropriation, as I said, of $25,000. This is very meagre when one stops to think what little may be done with so small an amount. The work of this commission under the $25,000 appropriation, if it becomes a law, will give us opportunity of making an actual and a real survey. At present it is only known from a theoretical standpoint as to what might possibly be the cost in operation of this pension fund for the aged, so in the organization of this body and the various commissioners of the various counties to be appointed by the Governor it would give them an opportunity of receiving applications of those persons who would be desirous of becoming benefactors under this old age pension. Nobody at this time could really say as to the absolute cost of this pension fund so therefore since it is a fact that Pennsylvania at the present time is suffering from a difficult financial entanglement which has not up to this time been ironed out, I being sponsor for this bill in the House and Senator Vare sponsor for it in the Senate, we thought that it was best at this time not to press so much in the amount of money that would be needed to give compensation to the people who would apply, but rather to start the organization of this body and make a survey in the next two years, so that in 1925 the Legislature would have some data at its finger ends and know exactly as to the number of applicants that would apply in the two years for the pension.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate also the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Steedle.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Steedle, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. STEEDLE. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. EDMONDS. As I understand it, Mr. Speaker, this bill establishes an old age pension system for the Commonwealth and then appropriates $25,000 to get it started. Is there any definite estimate whatever as to what this system would cost the Commonwealth in the event there is money enough to put it in operation today?

Mr. STEEDLE. There is no definite amount, Mr. Edmonds, owing to the fact that we have only a theoretical construction and there has been no way in which to measure up the approximate cost of this pension.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, may I then not ask the gentleman from Allegheny f it would not be more logical to appropriate $25,000 for a commission to investigate the pension rather than to put this whole program on the list of the liabilities of the State?

Mr. STEEDLE. In answer to the gentleman from Philadelphia, the commission that took up the study of the old age pension and that gave this subject consideration thought and study, this commission was the result of a bill introduced in the Senate by ex-Governor Sproul when he was a member of the Senate. The first commission was appointed in 1919, and at that time this commission was given an appropriation of $5,000 to investigate and study the old age pension in the various parts of the country that now have it established. In 1921 again this commission was extended and was given an appropriation of $15,000. They made a complete report in 1921 and that commission at that time I think thought it would cost probably in the neighborhood of five or six million of dollars, an estimate of the amount it needed for the biennium in Pennsylvania. That was their report. Of course we all had those reports last year, but like a lot of other reports, they were shoved around and when the time comes we cannot locate them. I think members of the House, that this question has had sufficient study by the Commission, and the bill upon which we are now about to act is the bill recommended by that commission in their report of 1921.

Mr. EDMONDS. May I ask the gentleman further whether that Commission considered the question as to whether there should be any contribution from the individuals who apply for this pension, in the years of their active employment?

Mr. STEEDLE. There are to be no contributions from the individuals.

Mr. EDMONDS. Then the whole thing is to be upon the State.

Mr. STEEDLE. Yes, sir.

Mr. EDMONDS. May I ask the gentleman one last question: Do you think it would not be more logical not to attack the problem of old age pension until we have the facts and the costs before us?

Mr. STEEDLE. I can see no reason why we should delay. This is only a matter of organization, it is the thought of bringing into perfection what we feel that some time we may possibly be able to give the poor unfortunate one some little assistance instead of sending them to some almshouse, and there to be cared for. I hope the members of this House will not delay a so-important, a so-humanitarian piece of legislation. To my mind it is one of the best things that has come before this House from the standpoint of humanity because we have all had in the sessions gone by these reports, but as I said before, like many reports which we receive, they are laid on the shelf and we forget them by the next session. It is unfortunate that we do not have at this time such information on our desks to completely follow the report of this commission. Notwithstanding that we haven't got it, I think it is time we accept this commission's report, act on this bill, start the organization of the old age pension during the next two years, and in 1925 there will be some exact amount shown that will be necessary to carry on this old age pension, and to what extent Pennsylvania may act, under it, for the poor. Now, we know that the Mother's Pension Fund was not a perfect scheme until it was brought into operation. Years have gone by since the operation of this law and it has been made a real law, one that is doing some good. It is the same with this, the enactment into law will bring into perfection the thought of the men who studied this question and in two years hence they will know exactly how much it will cost to operate it.

Mr. DAVID FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to speak in behalf of this bill, not that I like it as it is at the present time, because I have always hoped that we would soon have a more up to date bill, but I see in this bill a step in the right direction. In the last session of the Legislature we got a report from the commission that had been employed for four years, and we appropriated, I believe, ten thousand for that commission, without results. I feel that with this $25,000 appropriation we will see how the bill will act and at the next session of the Legislature we will be able to give an act that will be satisfactory to all concerned. The rehabilitation program was started on this very theory. In other states on the rehabilitation plan they have spent thousands of dollars for commissions, that have reported back to the legislatures, with the results that nothing was done. In our state we did not do it that way; we appropriated $100,000 and put the act into effect, and it has accomplished wonders. Others will agree that it has been a success and we have been able to amend that act up to the present time.

Now, I have here the report which says, "Pennsylvania, according to the census of 1910, showed a total population past 65 years of age of 325,908; the number of successful applicants for pension would be 108,636, deductions of the number of age dependents who already receive pensions from the government or from private industries means that you could probably figure it at 10,000. The cost of pensions would be, therefore, in Pennsylvania, approximately $15,000,000 and that was based on a $25.00 pension. Now this bill has changed that to seventy years which would greatly cut that down. I want to say to you that I feel that each and every one of you members in this House ought to go on record as placing this humanitarian measure upon the statute books, and we all know that it is impossible for us at this time to explain it, but we do know that with the experience of two years we will be able to come into the House in 1925 and pass upon amendments that will be satisfactory to all concerned. Now I want to say to all of you that we may look at this $25,000 as a wrong amount that may be appropriated to this worthy cause, but you must take into consideration that while you are doing this you are cutting down appropriations to poor houses and the almshouses of this State. I want to say to you members of the House that we can do no better than to take away from the poorhouses the old men and women who have given their lives in industry and are now compelled, due to the fact that they have spent their days in raising large families, and who are now compelled to live with lunatics and other kinds of people. I know the time has come, for other states are passing this very meritorious piece of legislation. I have heard of many a sad case in my time, going through the United States for my own organization, and what I have in mind was well pictured by a speaker at one time. He cited a case in Berks county, this state, of an old man and woman happily wedded for fifty years, and at the end of that time they stood in their house one morning and they realized what they were eating and the money it was taking to clothe them was being taken away from their grandchildren, and John said, "Mary, I think the time has come when you and I should go to the poor farm and relieve the burden on our poor children." Away the poor old people went and when they came to the poorhouse the superintendent met them and said, "John, you go over into this house and Mary, you go over there." The old man said, "Must Mary and I be parted after being happily wedded for fifty years—are we now to be torn asunder?" "Oh," said the superintendent, "we cannot permit the mixture of sexes in our institutions". So poor old John goes into one house, and Mary into another and there he goes to bed at night among strangers, some of them lunatics.

Now, my friends, some weeks later a visitor came to that institution and asked where John was. The answer was, "He is dead." They asked for Mary some weeks later, and she, too had passed away. What was the reason? Old age and complication of diseases? It was not, it was broken hearts and the institutions of this state helped to break two hearts, two loveable old peoples' hearts. They whom God had joined, the state institution tore asunder. We must eliminate that condition. We must make it possible for old men and old women to live happily together. It does not mean digging into the finances, and anyway what do we need to care? We are not running a banking institution; we want the finances of the state so that we can accomplish something, not to say after the session, "We saved "$5,000,000." I would rather say, "The state is broke but we saved five million broken hearts". That is my attitude.

Now I do not want to dwell upon the sympathetic side of this case, for I know that each and every one of you, men and women, feel as I do upon this question. I know that it is useless to appeal to you for attention upon that side of the question because I know that each and every one of you are feeling as I am feeling today, and I trust that this will go over unanimously as it has in other states and we can see how it works in two years and in 1925 we can come back and amend it to the likings of all.

Mr. LUDLOW. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it is with considerable diffidence and reluctance that I rise to oppose the passage of a bill conceived in such a broad spirit of humanitarianism. I want at this time, personally to express my appreciation both to Mr. Steedle, a member of this House, and Senator Vare, for having taken the trouble they have gone to to prepare this bill and to present it for our consideration, but I wonder whether you and I really know what this thing means. Do you know that however your heart may warm, very creditably in such cases, and I think our brother from Luzerne has clearly stated it from that standpoint, however much our hearts may warm to that subject do you know that when the commission in 1917 when it filed its report with the Legislature, stated that upon the 65 year old basis, taking one-half of those estimated as of that age, that it would cost the state of Pennsylvania in excess of thirty-five millions per year. Now multiply that for the biennium and call it seventy millions of dollars, and then if you please cut it in half again because perhaps half of those people eligible at 65 would not be eligible at the age of 70, as set forth in the bill as now amended. You can't escape the fact that by passing this act at this time you are deliberately running into a problem besides which the troubles of 1923 will fade into insignificance. Why, we have been worrying and looking around from place to place in an honest endeaver to raise the necessary revenue to conduct our schools and to meet our state obligations, and now upon the basis of the 1910 census statistics we are going into program which two years hence, as surely as the fact that you and I are here now, is going to cost this Commonwealth a sum of from twenty-five to fifty millions per biennium—a program which two years hence, as surely as the fact that maybe annually. It is estimated that in New York, with its present population, such a pension would cost the state forty-five million annually.

Are you ready to face that music? Have you read the act? They considered a two million dollar appropriation. Have you figured how many people at $365 per annum, a dollar a day, and it is the purpose of the bill to give them that amount at this time, that amount would cover? With that $25,000 have you figured on a superintendent at $1800.00—and think of getting a competent superintendent for $1800.00—to swing this work? Have you figured on paying $900.00 a year for inspectors in the counties, say one for every county? Why you would use over twice as much as the appropriation now given. If you eliminate all expense and charge against this $25,000 the $365 per person, you could not take care of more than 700 persons between now and the next biennium in 1925. I do not think it is playing the game squarely. If you really believe in the old age pension, then put it on a broad rate; do not do it in this half hearted way. Have you read on page 12, of file folio of the bill, that "All payments for assistance under the provisions of this act and all expenses incurred by the commission and the salaries of the superintendent and his assistants shall be paid by the State Treasurer out of moneys specifically appropriated for that purpose upon orders of the superintendent and warrant of the Auditor General"? And on the opposite page, for that tremendous opportunity to serve a state with a population in excess of eight million people, we appropriate the munificent sum of $25,000, which won't even pay for the organization.

Now, it seems to me that if this thing is right, if the humanitarianism of it is one hundred per cent. and you believe as a matter of fact tnat it is political economy that this government, the State government, should go into this thing, then you are not doing the thing right. Have you looked up the experience of New Zealand? Have you looked up the experience of Australia? Have you studied the experience of Scandinavia? Have you studied the experience of France? For illustration, do you know whether the fraternal organizations that you men belong to believe it is a good thing simply because one of these organizations from its national headquarters has sent out this little booklet to which reference has been made and copy of which I believe every member has received? I took the trouble to go to a State organization, a State organization of working men who their orders for the protection for their own league and their own fraternal body. I did not say how I stood on the question. I asked them what they thought about it. The answer came back, "It discourages thrift, it encourages pauperism, and it encourages fraternalism on the part of the government."

Imagine the thing as run Simon-pure, as an efficient agent of humanity, if those things are humane and we deem that help is needed, is this the way to do it and are we going to get results with $25,000? Personally I am not sold at all to the old age pension scheme and I am like the man from across the Mississippi, I want to be shown, but I cannot be shown by any such act as this.

Mr. JOSEPH C. MARCUS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I have listened with considerable interest to the remarks of the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Ludlow, wherein the question of human lives and the almighty dollar has been compared. I personally appreciate the fact that he has the interest of the Commonwealth at heart and that we are struggling here for revenue, and that this particular bill that we are discussing may endanger the brilliant program of the Governor. I would ask any member of this House to name me one particular measure that has meant much to the State that has not required many years of study and investigation and expenditure of money in endeavoring to pass through the experimental stage and finding some safe and concrete program wherein a measure of such vital importance can be put on our statute books and for the purpose of making it effective and practical. In 1919 those of us who were members of the House believed that woman suffrage was a step forward, and we placed it on our statute books because it was the thought and ideals of women of years back and yet by its struggles it has reached the stage where it is now on our statute books. We have our child labor act, and we have our workmen's compensation, and when placed on the calendar they did not meet with the approval of all the members, yet by sessions which followed corrections were made to the various legislation which made it practical. The old age pension does not seem to be such an experiment; two states in the union have adopted it, Nevada and Montana. I have heard no criticism of how it operates in those particular states. Evidently those who have introduced in the Senate and in the House their actions evidently were followed in the states of Massachusetts, Michigan, Rhode Island, Connecticut, Wisconsin, Virginia, Indiana and New York. Not a state mentioned has yet found the solution of the problem where it can work out one hundred per cent. efficiently, but if this bill is put on the statute books and is made by amendment capable and efficient, and an appropriation of $25,000, not for the purpose of making it an institution that will be able to pay its way but to give it an opportunity to function and organize and then come back in 1925 and say this is what we have been successful in doing in organization of this particular body and we ask for further assistance from the 1925 session. Defeat this bill now and all the work that has been done in years prior thereto will go to waste, so the only logical conclusion would be to keep up the work and give it this $25,000 and give it an opportunity to function, and I hope that every man and woman in this House will vote for this bill, from a standpoint that those that we love and those that we hold dearest to our hearts may become beneficiaries to this bill and let us look forward to the time when Pennsylvania will play its part in protecting those who have become unfortunate and let us not blush with shame, with a legislative program—with a bill of this kind—let us march forward, not backwards, and let us give this bill an opportunity to see the light of day; and I ask for your approval.

Mr. DAVID FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, just a word in reply to the gentleman from Montgomery; I will state that the Eagles of America are behind this bill. Since that time, the Eagles in various cities throughout the Uunited States organized what they called an Old Age Pension League. That league was organized in one county that I know of and I understand there is one in Pittsburgh, too. Lackawanna County is also in that league. The Knights of Pythias, the Odd Fellows and every fraternal organization in Lackawanna County has a committee of five representing various fraternal organizations in behalf of this bill. It is not now the Eagles' bill but it is a bill made up by the Old Age Pension League, which is composed of all the fraternal organizations in our section, and, I understand, as well in Pittsburgh, and I will also say that every labor organization in the country is behind it.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I have no objection to the principal of old age pensions on a sensible, coherent and well thought out plan. Indeed, personally, I have a great deal of sympathy with the desire that is being expressed on this floor by the gentleman from Lackawanna to do away with the poorhouse method of dealing with the indigent. To my mind, however, there are two fundamental difficulties with this bill.

The first is, that it places something on the State program without providing any means for carrying that something into effect. The moment we pass this law, the old age pension for those needing sympathy is excepted as a part of a program of the State. Henceforth, that is expression of the highest legislative body in the State as to what the State of Pennsylvania will do. And then the State of Pennsylvania appropriates $25,000. That isn't relieving distress at all; it is merely fooling distress. It isn't in any way establishing a system that gets you into the poorhouse. It is merely playing with the situation. It does seem to me that the bill that comes before us on this subject ought to be coherent enough to hang together and it ought to come at a time when the State can perform what the State says it is going to perform. Now, at this present time, we have a lot of programs that the State has accepted from time to time, and the State is doing them just half-way well. You take the Mother's Assistance Fund which is so popular at the present time. I doubt if there is a county of the Commonwealth that hasn't got far more mothers applying for assistance than can be supplied from the funds that are given by the State generally. It is another one of those cases in which we have taken on a program without realizing what it is going to cost, and then appropriating only enough money to do it half. Now, it seems to me that the first objection of this bill is that it adopts a program without making any adequate provision for its support, and that is bad finance.

In the second place, I can't help but feel that the principle of old age insurance which is expressed in this bill is bad policy for this reason: If I understand it properly, the principle of old age pensions was first adopted by Bismarck in Germany, and in the German legislation it requires that the worker should contribute to the fund and contribute during the period of his active working life. He contributes to the state, and the result is that there is gradually built up a state-fund which, with a supplementary association takes care of those in old age.

To my mind that is a correct principle that ought to be adopted in this bill. I see no reason why it is entirely fair, if this kind of principle is to be worked out, that a certain proportion should be paid by the individuals themselves. We have had a great many pension plans in this House. In some cases, the recipients of the pension contribute; in other cases they don't contribute. I think, frankly, we ought to be free, that it is the funds in which the recipients themselves contribute that, in the long run, are the best funds. It will encourage thrift and it will encourage industry on the part of the workers when they make a provision for the workers' old age and if there were any chance of a proposition of that kind coming before this House with an appropriation that would be adequate to do the work, personally, I would be glad to support it, but this proposition is not of that kind and, therefore, like the gentleman from Montgomery, I feel compelled to vote against it, although there is a sincere sympathy for the motive that lays back of it.

Mr. GUERIN. Mr. Speaker, I am sure that the sponsor of this bill would appreciate the sympathy of the members who have spoken against it, bue we are not looking for sympathy today; we are looking for votes. I want to answer the statement of the gentleman from Montgomery as to the cost. The estimate of the cost is approximately $35,000,000 to conduct it in the State of New York. Now, while I am a native of New York, I am an adopted son of Pennsylvania, and much to my regret, I must say that a comparison between the people of New York and Pennsylvania doesn't in any degree blend with the comparison made here today on the floor. When you compare the population of the city of New York with that of Pennsylvania's largest city, Philadelphia, you will find that there are a far greater number of people who will be subject to charity in New York City than there are in Philadelphia or any other city in the state of Pennsylvania, so that that comparison I don't think is fair. Another question that was brought up is the question of fraternal organization. I am a member of organizations which number more than two hundred thousand in the state of Pennsylvania, and I am an active officer in at least five of them and have taken the question up with every one of the state officials in the State of Pennsylvania, and in every one of those five fraternal organizations the executive officers are heartily in accord with this bill. Fraternity means humanity and this bill is brought here in the interests of humanity. The question of contributions has been brought up. I want to ask you if it is a fair proposition to ask a man who, starting out in life, practically, with no property, many of them with never an adequate return for their employment, with their employers taking the last drop of blood from their veins in compelling to work and reaping the reward of their work, to say that those men should contribute toward this fund.

There is another side to the question. I have been told in many of the smaller districts in the state of Pennsylvania, the thrift is such that only one or two or a very few people are on the poor farms, and that most of the poor farms cost far in excess of what it would cost to give these people whatever in defence of the assertion that it would be a ridiculous proposition to make an appropriation of $25,000. I would like to cite The Mother's Pension Fund, which was passed with a very small appropriation, and today that fund, or the executive officer of that fund has the money provided by that statute and is keeping hundreds of women out of the poorhouse and in their own homes, looking after their own children. And if this House will vote for this bill today, they will give as much as the House possibly can afford at this time, and the State can afford this $25,000 to start this bill on its way, and two years hence we hope that they will be in a position to report to this House a practical measure that the House will be question of financing has been coming up. We have all in a position to support and maintain thereafter. The been worried as to where we are going to get $18,000,000 or $20,000,000. I don't know what was done in the House, but when I woke up this morning I read in the papers that it is just a small matter of doubling up on our present taxes. Well, now, let's try a few more of these little taxes if necessary and let us, as Mr. Fowler said, when they take old people to the poorhouse, don't let us say, "Mary, go here," and "John, go there." Let us provide, in their own homes, for the last few remaining days of their lives, that they will be able to spend them together. Ladies and gentlemen, I hope you will vote for this bill.

Miss GRIMES. Mr. Speaker, I should like to interrogate the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Ludlow.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Ludlow, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LUDLOW. With the greatest of pleasure, sir.

Miss GRIMES. Mr. Ludlow, I should like to ask you if you made the statement that about $35,000,000 is required as suggested by the commission, what would you say is the cost to the State of the various old age homes and poorhouses throughout the State?

Mr. LUDLOW. I can't tell that, because that matter is now being investigated by a commission which is studying the whole poor district problem in the State of Pennsylvania. But, if I may say a word further, it is the very investigation which they are making which shows the undesirability of the present system, and you don't have to go far to argue with me because I admit that the present system is wrong, but is this the remedy? That is my own opinion.

Miss GRIMES. Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, on general principles I am opposed to the pension scheme, but there are three kinds of pensions which I believe in. One of those is a pension for soldiers, men who have been drafted into service of this country and have fought for it. The other one is for widows whose husbands have died and who are obliged to support their children. The other for old people who, in the battle of life, are liable to be thrown aside as derelicts and suffer in the last days of their lives with little comfort.

I believe this bill is properly drawn because, as a member of the first Board of Mother's Assistance that was appointed to the State of Pennsylvania from Alleghenly County, I know that we lost about a year in getting organized and I think that the method of establishing this system is a good one, in that it makes a small start and gives the people who shall administer this act time to study the whole situation and start in a small way. I know that under the Mother's Assistance Act we had a small appropriation and we had to study the whole situation. It was a new thing; we didn't know how to tackle it, and we had to go slowly and thrash the thing out. Now, we are asking, in this Legislature, for $2,000,000 to carry that fund, and the same arguments, as Mr. Ludlow, the gentleman from Montgomery, has stated are brought against this pension bill as were brought against the Mother's Assistance Bill, that it would discourage thrift and that it would establish a new class of paupers. It depends entirely upon the Administration of the Mother's Assistance Act whether that happens, and it depends entirely upon the administration of this act. I believe that the way the act tends to work out, it would just obviate that very difficulty, in that it plans for a study of the situation when the State hasn't very much money to make the first steps, with the intention later on of appropriating money for the actual draft of the pension fund. I hope you will vote for this bill.

Mr. DILSHEIMER. Mr. Speaker and members of this House: It is a general saying that every new invention has to have a start. This bill is a new invention for legislators and for the people throughout this Commonwealth. To my estimation, I don't believe there has been a bill presented to us of more importance and more human purpose than this bill. Those who have money don't have to take advantage of this bill, and are fortunate enough in having accumulated such funds to see them through in life. Well and good, they should be glad of it, but those who haven't been so fortunate, Mr. Speaker and members of this House, I think it is our solemn duty to protect and make it as easy as possible for the rest of their days, while they are living. We are voting millions of dollars away for high educational purposes and, especially, I find that those members who are against such purposes don't say a word against voting millions of dollars away for other purposes, and who has the benefit of it? We all know. Therefore, I appeal to you all, ladies and gentlemen, members of this House, to support this bill and give it a start and two years hence we can improve it if it is necessary. But every new invention must have a start, and I think it is not more than right to give this bill a fair start and put it under way. I hope you all will support it.

Mr. STONER. Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentleman, I am for an old age pension and for a proper bill to accomplish it. I believe that it is a proper disposition of public money and pursuant to a settled social obligation, but I can't see any particular reason why any one should be for this bill. I am not one of those who believes that the State is broke, and if you put the $2,000,000 appropriation back into this bill, I will vote for it and be glad to vote for it, but as it stands now, it looks to me like a joke one of two ways. If it is intended merely as a commission to investigate the advisability and the cost of old age pensions as has been suggested, then, providing as it does the machinery for the full administration of such a scheme, it seems to be somewhat of a joke on the Commonwealth. If it is intended to provide all of the machinery to administer the scheme of old age pensions, without providing any funds, then it looks to me to be sort of a joke on those who would otherwise benefit by virtue of the provisions of the act. I do not see what in the world can be accomplished. It certainly doesn't require two years for a commission to organize and open it up, and certainly, under the provisions of this bill, that is all that can be done. I am vastly disappointed. that I didn't know that the amount of this appropriation of $2,000,000 had been taken out of the bill until this morning. That is, probably, because I was ill last week; but nevertheless, I don't see what is to be accomplished by the bill in its present shape.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question.

The motion was seconded by Messrs. Albert, Alexander, Armstrong, Aston, Beaver, Bidelspacher, Chaplin, Coldsmith, Colville, Conner, Craig, Dilsheimer, Dunn, Earley, Fratt, Hetrick, Long, Lucas, Metcalf, Orr and others.

RESOLUTION RECALLING HOUSE BILL No. 702 FROM THE GOVERNOR.

Mr. LUDLOW offered the following resolution which was twice read and adopted:

In the House of Representatives, April 24, 1923.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That House Bill No. 702, File Folio 1295, entitled "An Act to amend section three and section four of an act approved the fifth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty one (Pamphlet Laws three hundred and seventy-four), entitled 'An act providing for the licensing and regulation of corporations, copartnerships, associations and individuals engaged in the business of receiving payments or contributions to be held or used in any plan of accumulation or investment or of issuing, negotiating, offering for sale or selling any certificates, securities, contracts or other choses in actions evidenced by writing on the partial payment or installment plan or of assuming fixed obligations or issuing in connection therewith a contract based upon payments being made upon installments or single payments under which all or part of the total amount received is to be repaid at some future time with or without profit and imposing penalties' ", be recalled from the Governor.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON RULES.

Mr. McVICAR offered a report from the Committee on Rules, which was read as fololws:

Committee on Rules recommends for adoption the following rule to continue in force during the balance of this session:

RULE

Resolved that beginning with the calendar week of Monday, April 30th, 1923, that bills on the postponed calendar may be called up only on Tuesdays of each week.

Nelson McVicar
Chas. F. Bidelspacher
Geo. W. Williams
J. M. Flynn
Chester H. Rhodes.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee on Rules?

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, the proposed rule which you have just heard read provides that bills placed upon the postponed calendar may only be called therefrom on Tuesday of each week, beginning with next week, thereby giving an opportunity to the members of the House to call up their bills during this week. The object of the rule is this, to put the members in the position so that they will not have to continuously watch the many bills which are on the postponed calendar and so that they will know that those bills can only be called up or heard on Tuesday of each week. This also will act as a deterrent not to place bills on the postponed calendar.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee on Rules?

It was adopted.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. JOHN G. MARSHALL. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. JOHN G. MARSHALL. Mr. Speaker, I think I am expressing the sentiment of a majority of the members when I say it is the desire of the members of this House, if possible, to have a session of the House this afternoon in order to expedite the work and get rid of our third reading calendar. I understood it was the plan this morning to have such a session, but owing to the request of the Ways and Means Committee for a meeting of that committee at four o'clock, it will make it impossible to do so. As you know we have a large third reading calendar and unless we have a session this afternoon when we have such an excellent opportunity of having it, it seems a pity that we have to loaf—I don't know of any other word to express it—in order that the Ways and Means Committee may meet for an hour or so. I think in fairness to the members of the House, and I believe the Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee will agree with me, that the committee should hold the meeting at some other time except four o'clock, in order that the House may meet at that time and take up the work on the calendar, if the Speaker and members of the House are willing to have a meeting at that time. I merely bring this before you in order that you may act on it in the way you desire.

Mr. WONER. Mr. Speaker, in reply to my colleague from Beaver I would say that it is entirely agreeable to the members of the Ways and Means Committee that it should have a meeting at some time today. In consideration of what the gentleman has said, I am perfectly willing to put this hearing off until seven thirty, provided the House will not convene before 8:30 or 9:00. In that way we will be more certain that the members will be back from Mount Gretna and we will accomplish the same results from a meeting of the Committee then as we would at four o'clock.

PERMISSION GIVEN WAYS AND MEANS COMMITTEE TO MEET DURING SESSION OF THE HOUSE

Mr. GOLDER. It just occurs to me, Mr. Speaker, that it might be proper to put a motion that the Ways and Means Committee be permitted to hold a meeting during the session of the House any time today. I therefore move, Mr. Speaker, that the Committee on Ways and Means, be permitted to hold a meeting any time during the present day.

Mr. HEFFERNAN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1251, entitled:

An Act to prohibit the obstruction of the view of the interior of soft drink places pool rooms and billiard parlors

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. CHAPLIN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have the sponsor of this bill explain it.

MOTION TO POSTPONE.

Mr. WONER. Mr. Speaker, I would be very glad to enter into a discussion of the bill at this time, however, at the request of a number of the members of the House who are deeply interested in this bill, I have consented, as a matter of courtesy, to have this bill placed on the postponed calendar owing to its association with other prospective legislation. I therefore move that further consideration of the bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. DAVID J. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DILSHEIMER. Mr. Speaker, I would ask the sponsor of the bill to explain its purpose.

Mr. WONER. Mr. Speaker, the reading of the bill is perfectly clear. It provides that where soft drinks are sold and where pool and billiards are played, that there shall be an unobstructed view from the exterior. Now the purpose of this bill may be found by asking a question. Why should there be such an obstruction of view? I assume that the answer to that would be, that they do not desire those walking on the outside to see what is on the inside and what they are doing within. You know that almost without exception in places where drinks were sold in the days of the old-fashioned saloon that there was a painted window or frosted glass or obstruction of some kind. They exist today, why did they exist then? Answer that question in your own mind. It must have been for some reason. Did they do something therein that they didn't want the public to view? Was there someone in there who was ashamed to have someone from the outside look in and see him? Now, with respect to the present status, we find they don't sell anything in these places of course that is in violation of the law. No one who sells soft drinks is selling anything more than one-half of one per cent; of course they are not. Why then should there be any objection to opening up their places to the view of the public? Why should not the public look in and see what they are doing? What kind of a convivial sport are they planning for that they do not wish the public to see? Primarily, however, it is to turn the searchlight on these places. Now, you know light is a greater purifier. If you turn the light of inspection of the public view into a place of that kind you lead to a diminishing of the likelihood of violation of law therein. Now this bill is not new; it is exactly like one of the statute books of the state of Ohio, and is in a similar form in a number of states in the union. I simply see no reason why anyone conducting a soft drinks place should be so ashamed of it that they would not want the public to look in or that they would not want frosted windows, painted windows or obstructions. Secondly, in my opinion the bill is important because it will do away with the violation of the law as there always is behind closed doors. You might ask me, "Why do you want to look into a pool room, or why do you want to look into a billiard parlor?" Why some of the worst cesspools of filth in this Commonwealth are found in the poolrooms and the billiard parlors. Why do our laws state that a boy under a certain age shall not be permitted to play pool or billiards? That is because we have laws to regulate those places. I think we should have a law that permits us to look in and see what they are doing there.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker, as I understand it, the sponsor of this bill seems to think that the reason fluids and frosted glass are used is because people on the inside are afraid of the light, that they are necessarily committing some crime. I desire, Mr. Speaker, to ask the gentleman from Butler whether he can give me some logical reason why barber shops hair dressing shops, real estate offices, notaries public offices, and yes even lawyers offices should not have frosted windows so that people cannot see in.

Mr. WONER. Mr. Speaker, I anticipated a query of that kind. There is a likelihood of the violation of the law in places where soft drinks are sold. There is a specific law governing the sale of what the soft drink vendors have to sell, and because of the likelihood that beverages containing more than one-half of one per cent. would be sold in these places because some of these self-same people who are now questioning me know that there was violation of the law, back of the screens and back of the obstructions on the windows. Now if we are honest, we will admit that is made today is that you have closed the doors of the saloon but you have not driven the saloon out. Now I want to tell you, we must go one step further than this, take away the front badge of the saloon, which is the badge of the shadow and darkness and you have gone a great way toward driving the old-fashioned saloon out of the State of Pennsylvania.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, it is amusing at all times to me that those who always sponsor and foster reform measures, those who are holier than thou, seem to know more about crime and criminal violations than those who stand upon their constitutional rights and do those things which they believe are within the law. Mr. Woner has stated that we have closed the saloon. What sophistry is this? Why members of the House, you in your own experience know that more saloons have been opened since the passage and the signing of the so-called enforcing measure than there ever were in Pennsylvania before. I know of delicatessen stores which today are taking orders for beer by the case. I know a drugstore in Harrisburg which is taking orders for beer by the case, and Mr. Earley, I think you know of it too. I think, Mr. Speaker, it is the merest form of sophistry to say we have closed the saloon. Why members of the House, we have opened them wide. The only difference today is there is no badge on the saloon. Everyone who desires to sell less than one half of one percent, can open up the front door and there you have a saloon in effect. I could hardly believe that Mr. Woner was serious on this bill. It looks to me as though it was merely a "busybody's" bill. You know there are a great many people who like to gossip, and there are people who like to stick their noses into other people's business, to find out what is giong on, and they don't just like to let people know what they are trying to find out, and that is the spirit that prompts a bill of this kind. I have been in a pool room, and I do not understand the way people look at a pool room or billiard parlor. They believe that in pool rooms everybody carries a cue in one hand and a knife in the other and a revolver in his pocket, and yet the Commonwealth licenses pool rooms. There is no mystery about a pool room. I have shot kelly pool in pool rooms and have spotted the balls and everything else, and I am relatively as good as a great many other people who are afraid to go into a pool room. When we passed the enforcement bill, or rather when the enforcement bill was passed, we did not pass it, it provided among other things that is was perfectly lawful to sell less than one-half of one per cent. We understood from those who advocated the passage of that bill that just as soon as that bill would pass it would be the panacea for all evil. I have heard those propositions before. I heard it stated on the floor of this House that just as soon as we had the enforcement act that all the prisons would be turned into convents, if you please, and all the almshouses turned into places where the souls will be reclaimed and where every one will be walking up and down singing Hallelujah and giving praise for delivery from this evil. Did that happen? No. Just as soon as they passed that bill it immediately found out that they needed fifty more bills to correct the evil that that one bill has brought about. Isn't that the fact? Who ever heard of these bills closing the front door, and taking off the swinging door, putting up a curtain, taking down a curtain, putting out the wash and taking in the wash. Don't you see that the one bill has brought about a great many other bills that are closing every other door. I prophesy if you pass this bill we will have other bills saying that this door must be taken down and that you must put up another door or that you must use a certain kind of plate glass, and another thing since green has been determined as the best color for the vision they will say that they will paint all of these houses green so the people walking up and down will not have their eye sight affected. It is a most laughable matter. They will say to the man on the corner that he has a perfect right to sell coco-cola or anything with less than one half of one percent, but you object to the arrangement of the room. You will say that he will have to have a chair in that corner, and a counter in the other corner and the curtains must come down so that when Mrs. Jones is coming down from the butcher shop she can look in and see whether Mrs. Murphy's husband is in there buying a drink of soda water. Members of the House, this strikes me as being funnier than Hell. Honestly doesn't it strike you the same way?

It is a ridiculous proposition and we ought to vote it down.

Mr. LORENZO D. THOMAS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am very glad to be classified this morning in the category, and in the midst of those who did not know what they were doing when they passed the enforcement measure of a few weeks ago. I am very glad to stand before you and to tell you that the man who drafted this bill, and the man who introduced this bill is everything other than an imbecile. I desire to add to that I think this is a meritorious measure, because I have seen the pool room from the inside just as well as I have seen it from the outside, and I have been obliged, I am sorry to say, to go into these dens of vice corruption and immorality and bring young boys out of them, take them back to their homes and to their mothers.

We know something about the culture and the refinement of the state of Massachusetts. Other states have been brought under discussion on this floor this morning, and they have been held up to us as a paragon of intelligence, and I know that my experience in the state of Massachusetts leaves me to understand that in the place where this was more than one-half of one per cent, that where there was less than one-half of one per cent the blinds were not drawn, and even such small things, if you please, as the screen door were entirely eliminated and wiped out. Pennsylvania is a good State, and Pennsylvania's population, variously made up as it is, has just as much right to be heard by the men who are trying to uphold the Constitution as it has a right to hear those who will laugh at the laws of the country and grind under their feet every movement of righteousness, virtue and morality. I am going to vote for this bill and not only that, but I will, in the days to come, so long as I am on my feet and able to go forth and look at the pernicious influence of those dens of vice and immorality and I will do more than Carrie Nation ever did to see that the blinds are where they ought to be and that the screen doors are relegated to the back yard.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of the bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Butler, Mr. Woner, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WONER. I will Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SOWERS. I would like to know whether or not in your opinion, this is an encouragement to the youth to enter these places by permitting them to look inside.

Mr. WONER. I should answer that question in the negative.

Mr. SOWERS. I would like to know from you how you can determine by sight, whether a beverage has one-half or more than one-half of one per cent alcohol in it.

Mr. WONER. It is not a question of sight, it is a question of the permit. It is a question of the law. The bill says, where soft drinks are sold, soft drinks are supposed to contain less then one-half of one per cent by Mr. SOWERS. Well, isn't there a distinction between alcoholic beverages and soft drinks?

Mr. WONER. There is no distinction in this particular case. But let me ask, how many places where they sell soda water or soft drinks do they find it necessary to have screens or frosted doors or obstructions in the windows?

Mr. SOWERS. Has the gentleman ever drank soda water?

Mr. WONER. I have.

Mr. SOWERS. Did you ever know that there was no alcohol in it?

Mr. WONER. I did.

Mr. SOWERS. Have you ever drank butter milk?

Mr. WONER. I am very fond of it, thank you.

Mr. SOWERS. Don't you know that there is a great deal of alcohol in it more then one-half of one per cent?

Mr. WONER. I believe there is.

Mr. SOWERS. And you drink it?

Mr. WONER. I don't think that I have taken a drink since we passed the Pinchot Act.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I like to know that my friend has taken a drink of butter milk in order to have an alcoholic beverage. We will, from time to time, have all kinds of bills and attempted legislation in this House, but this bill No. 1251, looks to me as if it contains Puritanism. It looks to me as if it came from some ancient history. Why, the idea; the very bill is really to restrain, to prohibit, to do this, to do that, or do something else. The very bill itself encourages the thing that it seems to do away with. It will encourage the youth to look into the pool rooms, to see the players there, to go in to play and want to play. The bill does not prohibit youths from looking in. It opens the door for you to look in, and if the ire of the youth is aroused, he will go in. Are these bills good or are they harmful? Now, what is the next object of the bill? My friend would have you believe that soft drinks are alcoholic beverages of more than one-half of one per cent. Why take down all the blinds? Why take down all the screens? How are you, by eye sight, going to tell whether there is more than one-half of one per cent or two or three per cent of alcohol in a beverage? Isn't the bill so foolish that it is not worthy of any consideration? I ask you all to vote it down.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

NAYS—4.

Dietz,
McDermott,
Stavitski,
Stofflet,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1236, entitled:

An Act providing for a giant power survey; creating a Giant Power Survey Board; defining the powers and duties thereof; requiring officers, Departments, Commissions, and other agencies of the Commonwealth to give information thereto; and making an appropriation.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STOFFLET. Mr. Speaker, it seems to me that these bills referring to our water power in the State of Pennsylvania are an insidious attempt on the part of the water power trust to rob the people of one of the last of the great natural resources. The wonder of wonders is the secrecy with which the water power trust had been working. In this bill they are attempting to lay their hands on our natural resources, on our forest reservations, on our streams. The effectiveness of the development of the water power trust has been great, and few people ever thought that the water power in these United States was worth trustifying until Theodore Roosevelt vetoed the James River Dam Bill. It was not a big bill at that, but in the veto of that bill Theodore Roosevelt sounded the warning to the people of this country for the preservation of the water power that was still a part of the public wealth. This bill afforded occasion for turning loose national contemplation in a detailed report by the Commissioner of Corporations which was made on our water power conditions. I want to sound a warning to the gentlemen of this House that this stupid legislation has taken away our water power all along the Susquehanna River from Towanda down to the Maryland line, which today should belong to the people and which has passed into the hands of private corporations where regulation has become extremely difficult. The country at the time Roosevelt vetoed the James River Dam Bill was just as slow as you are to take that report. Some people thought it was another Roosevelt alarm. Other people found something humorous in the queer notion that our water power was worth trustifying, and still others got the idea and have been keeping it ever since that this combination would result in the most gigantic trust in the history of American manufacturing. Then we have the solemn warning of Senator Burton from Ohio, in 1913, delivered in the United States Senate, saying this, "besides its enormous magnitude, this industry will become fundamental to many other industries which depend upon water power for their operation and success. The possibility of the control of the business of this country through the agency of water is more eminent than any other form of control ever attempted in the history of human endeavor."

And one thing sure Senator Burton did not injure his reputation as a conservatist when he made these remarks. Last August a book entitled "Hydro Electric," written by Steinmetz, came into my possession, and in that book it says this, that the time will come within the next score or two score years when the farmer will operate his tractor with two little uprights and a wire stretched from one to the other. Power will be delivered by wireless, and if we today permit the gigantic water power of this State to pass into the hands of the water power trust, then when that time comes the water power trust will have us by the throat the same as the coal barons have us by the throat today, and there is no getting away from that proposition. It would take too long to relate all that I have prepared on this subject, but I just want to call the attention of the members to this fact that the industrial United States today uses thirty million horsepower to drive all our factories, our railroads, our lighting stations and our trolleys. This is developed by gas, steam and water power. The available minimum horsepower that can be developed by the water power resources east of the Mississippi at the periods of lowest water, either in the midst of winter or in the midst of summer, is placed at 36,906,000 horsepower, and the maximum without construction of reservoirs is placed at 66,447,000 horsepower. W. J. Magee, one of the world's greatest hydro-electric engineers, places the amount of horsepower that can be developed at the maximum east of the Mississippi River at 66,447,000 horsepower. Now only 200,000,000 horsepower is necessary to operate our factories. It exceeds our mechanical power in use, and the surplus would operate every mill, would light every town and borough and would drive every train and trolley car in the country. Now just exactly whether you agree with this or not makes very little difference, but you will be forced to concede that these figures actually amount to something, and that the time will come when ownership, state regulation of the water power of this great Commonwealth, properly conducted, would place this State absolutely tax free. All the revenues required to operate every department in the State could be derived from our water power. I think it is certain that we have come to this point where we want to stop the gigantic trust from robbing the people of this great Commonwealth of that heritage which has come to us. This is the time to do it by voting no on these water power bills. I never thought that a matter of legislation so cleverly conceived could be brought before this House with any intention on the part of anybody to get away with it.

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, the five bills appearing on the calendar, bearing my name, I did not prepare, but I am in full accord with the provisions of this bill, and I believe that no bills have been presented to the Legislature that are more far reaching along conservative lines that these bills. If the gentleman from Northampton had carefully read all of the bills he would have come to the conclusion that the water power was clearly protected, and the bills drawn in the interest of the people of the state of Pennsylvania.

The whole thought of the bill now under consideration is to authorize the Governor, the Attorney General, the Commissioner of Forestry, the Secretary of the Water Supply Commission and the Chairman of the Public Service Commission, the Commissioner of Labor and Industry, the Deputy Attorney General hereafter to be designated by the Governor and a competent engineer, hereafter to be designated by the Governor from time to time to make a survey of the possibilities of the water power of this State and the coal resources of this State with a view of protecting future generations on the matter of water and fuel power. One other bill, the bill following this is intended to protect the flow of water in the Delaware River, and I can imagine no question of greater interest to the gentleman from Northampton because the Delaware River flows through that county. Governor Smith of New York is making an attempt to dam the head waters of the Delaware and to divert it to the use of the state of New York. This bill empowers the Governor to appoint a commission of citizens of the state of Pennsylvania to confer with the citizens of the state of New Jersey and New York with a view of handling the water supply of the Delaware River where it would be beneficial to all three states. What more could you look for or expect? The other bill authorizes the Forestry Department to lease for power purposes the water supply on state lands. It does seem to me that the interests of the people of this Commonwealth are safe-guarded in the provisions of these several bills in every particular and no harm can come to the people of the state, but they will be greatly benefitted by the passage of these bills.

Mr. STOFFLET. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Tioga, Mr. Williams, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. Yes sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. STOFFLET. What terms would these corporations that would lease these water rights make with the people—the rate they are going to charge during the fifty year term of the lease?

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. In answer to the gentleman from Northampton I will say that I don't know the rates they will charge. These bills are administration bills and were prepared at the suggestion of the Governor and Attorney General and placed in my hands and I think if the gentleman will study the bills he will see that the interests of the people of the Commonwealth are protected in every particular.

Mr. STOFFLET. The statement that these are administration bills and were handed to you for introduction is correct. You will admit that these are administration bills?

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. I do, Mr. Speaker, most emphatically.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1235, entitled:

An Act authorizing the Department of Forestry to grant on terms, conditions and stipulations rights to occupy and use any portion of the State Forests for dams, reservoirs, canals, pipe lines and other water conduits for water supply purposes; and providing for forfeiture and other remedies for breach of such terms, conditions and stipulations.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the uestion,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill, the bill following and the bill preceding, I want to call your attention to them. These bills are anticipating the happening of another event. In other words the administration code which is now in the Senate, in the Finance Committee, provides for the changing of the Forestry Commission into a Department of Forests and Water. We have at the present time a Water Supply Commission which has all the powers, and should have all the powers, given in this bill. This bill, however, provides that these powers shall now be put under the Forestry Commissioner, and anticipating that the Administration Code is passed then this is a proper bill, but if it is not passed then you are stripping the Water Supply Commission of much of its power and transferring this power to the Department of Forestry. Of course, if you want to mix up things, this is a good way to do it. But if we wish to keep things where they ought to be, that is in the Water Supply Commission, and unless the Administration code is passed in the form it is now in, that is where it should be and not be confused.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative and the bill falls.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 1238, file folio 4815, entitled:

An Act authorizing the Department of Forestry to lease for periods of not more than fifty years on terms conditions and stipulations expressed in each lease any portions of the State Forests for dams reservoirs canals pipe lines and other water conduits power houses and transmission lines for the development of water power for steam raising and condensation and for the generation and transmission of electric energy passed finally be reconsidered.

Mr. JOSEPH MARCUS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

QUESTION OF INFORMATION.

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of information.

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, is the bill in the possession of the House?

The SPEAKER. For the information of the gentleman from Allegheny, the Chair would state that the bill is in the possession of the House.

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, I desire to know how the gentleman who made the motion voted.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the affirmative.

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, I desire to know how the gentleman who seconded the motion voted.

Mr. JOSEPH MARCUS. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the affirmative.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER. The Chair is unable to decide the vote.

Whereupon, A division was called for, and seventy-five members having voted in the affirmative and sixty-five in the negative, the question was determined in the affirmative and the motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask some of the gentlemen who voted for the reconsideration of the vote on this bill what new light they can throw upon the bill, or what is the reason they are opposed to the bill. I wish some of those who have urged that vote would at least tell the House what their reasons are so that we may understand the situation.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, It seems to me that it would be well for those having the bill in charge, and the companion bill, and the bill now under consideration, to give the House some explanation as to what this bill is, what it does, what relation it bears to the code that is now in the Senate. I think that what this House needs in connection with all these bills is enlightment for they are bills of considerable importance and if the bills have merit they should be passed; if they have not merit, they should be defeated. But certainly the House should have some enlightment as to what these bills contain.

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. If the gentleman from York has been in his seat when these bills were called up, he would have heard a full explanation of them. I do not care to go into a further discussion of them now.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, it is well understood that there were a great many members of the House absent attending a committee meeting with the permission of the House when these bills were called up. Now these gentlemen have come back and we have a full attendance, therefore, I hope the gentleman from Tioga, Mr. Williams, will reconsider his position and again see his way clear to repeat his explanation of these bills for the benefit of the members who were absent.

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, in response to the suggestion of the gentleman from Philadelphia, for which I thank him, I will say to the gentlemen of the House who were not present when I previously explained the purpose of these bills, that I said they were not my bills, I did not draft them, although I am in full and complete accord with the provisions of these bills. They were prepared by the Attorney General's office and handed to me for introduction, and I am proud to introduce them for I believe they mean a great deal to the people of Pennsylvania, looking to a complete survey of the water possibilities and the water power of the State, and the further possibility of the use of coal in developing power. They are what you might call administration measures, and if the fact that they are administration measures makes them offensive to any members of the House, then you are entitled to vote against them.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Tioga, Mr. Williams.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Tioga, Mr. Williams, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ALEXANDER. I desire to ask the gentleman, at the present time, if he knows the powers of the Water Supply Commission of Pennsylvania.

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. I do, to some extent.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Doesn't the Water Power Supply Commission of Pennsylvania cover everything that is in this bill?

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. I don't think so.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Will you tell us wherein the Water Supply Commission doesn't have power to do just what this provides for.

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. This bill, No. 1238, is a bill that authorizes the Forestry Department to lease for dam purposes. I assume that is what the gentleman desires to know. He is more interested in water, I take it than anything else.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman further.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himsilf to be further interrogated.

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Don't the Water Supply Commission, at the present time, have just that power?

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. I won't say that they did over the streams on the State line.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Now, isn't it a fact, Mr. Williams, that the new administrative code makes the Forestry Department the Department of Forest and Waters?

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. I am under the impression it does, although I have not read the code.

Mr. ALEXANDER. And isn't it a fact that that takes over the Water Supply Commission as it exists at the present time and places it in the Department of Forests?

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. I think it does, in the Forestry Department.

Mr. ALEXANDER. And if, therefore, this bill, should be in the Water Supply Commission, if the administrative code should happen to fail passage, then we are taking away a part of the powers of the Water Supply Commission and placing them in the Department of Forests, are we not, without having a Department of Forests and Waters?

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. Well, the Water Supply Commission then would be a Bureau in the Department of Forestry.

Mr. ALEXANDER. And would it co-operate with the Forestry Department in the work of that department?

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. I am mistaken about that. If that administrative code does not pass, we will have the Water Supply Commission, but all its powers will be taken over by the Forestry Commission or at least these powers in these bills will be taken over by them.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Why, it won't take them over if the code is not passed.

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. Why, this puts it in the Forestry Department.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Oh, with this bill?

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. Yes, Surely.

Mr. ALEXANDER. As I say, if this bill passes and the code does not pass, we will have some of the powers of the Water Supply Commission in the Department of Forests instead of the Water Supply Commission.

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. It does, so far as leasing State lands for water supply purposes.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the it because it is an administration bill. As I say, the Water House, when I vote against this bill, I don't vote against Supply Commission, as the gentleman had admitted, has certain well defined powers at the present time, and I have heard no complaint about the Water Supply Commission functioning as it should function, but anticipating that the administrative code will be passed, they provide here, in the first place, to take the powers of the Water Supply Commission and place them in the Department of Forests and Waters. Now, it seems to me it is a little premature. We shouldn't rob a commission at the present time which is properly functioning until we have the other department inaugurated. In other words, until we have a Department of Forestry and waters, those duties that are now performed by the Water Supply Department should be still kept in the Water Supply Department.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, ordinarily, when the gentleman from Delaware speaks, personally, I learn something; but this time I confess I have gotten nothing but confusion. I know nothing about these bills except as they appear on the calendar, and as I read them I can't help but feel that the gentleman from Delaware has a misconception as to the nature of what these bills are to provide for. Now, take No. 1238: "be it enacted that the Department of Forestry is hereby authorized in its discretion to lease for periods of not more than fifty years any portion of the State forests for use as a site for dams and other water obstructions, reservoirs, etc." there is nothing there about the Water Supply Commission. I turn, then, to Smull's Hand book, pages 264 and 265, that relate to the Water Supply Commission, and I find nothing there that gives any power. And what is the injustice that this bill proposes to do? It seems to me that what we have here is a misunderstanding. Somebody thinks that it has something to do with the administration code. Somebody don't like the administrative code, and so somebody connects his dislike with this bill. My own feeling is that this is proper legislation. Why shouldn't the Department of Forestry be authorized to make leases of State land, if by so doing they could get hold of appropriate dams for reservoir purposes and I don't understand the criticisms that have been made of it.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I would say further to the House that I asked the gentleman awhile ago if he would postpone these bills in order that we might have a chance to study them. He evidently misunderstood me, because I know that if he had a promise to do it and understood that he had, he would have postponed it, but I think that if there is confusion here, it seems to me that the best plan at the present time, so that we may act properly—I don't want to confuse, nor do I want to mislead any member of this House. That is the last thought that I ever have in my mind, and therefore, I think that there is confusion at the present time, that all of these bills should be placed on the postponed calendar in order that we may be able to make a proper study of those bills, and if the sponsor of the bill will agree to that, I make that motion.

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I have no objection to the bills going on the postponed calendar.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I know the gentleman misunderstood me, because I know if he made a promise he would carry it out.

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, in all fairness I would ask the gentleman from Delaware to move the reconsideration of the vote by which Bill No. 1235 was defeated, and leave them all go on the postponed calendar. If he will do that, I am agreed to postpone them.

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, so as to get action, I move that House Bill No. 1238 be placed on the postponed calendar.

Mr. JOSEPH MARCUS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I move you that the vote by which Bill 1236, entitled:

Mr. BLUETT. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?
